LOOK UNDER THE HOOD....

No matter how you look at it, fork truck performance starts with the engine. That's why you can expect an Allis-Chalmers fork truck to outperform right from the start.

Allis-Chalmers engines are real heavyduty, industrial-type — the strongest and most rugged used in a fork truck. Every part is built to exceed maximum wear and stress expectancy, putting thousands of extra work thousands of extra work hours into Allis-Chalmers fork trucks—keeping them on the job.

But durability is only part of the story. Compare an Allis-Chalmers fork truck in material moved per hour and you will quickly see what an engine with extra usable torque and responsive acceleration can contribute. Here is power to outproduce!

Like the entire truck, Allis-Chalmers engines are built for quick servicing, too, and are so simple to repair they can be completely overhauled without removal from the truck.

Since Allis-Chalmers builds its own engines, (gasoline, diesel and gas), they are interchangeable in the trucks — and you will find an amazing 85 percent parts interchangeability.

Send for literature, or ask your Allis-Chalmers material handling dealer to tell you more about this power to outperform — plus the other outstanding features of Allis-Chalmers fork trucks.

MATERIAL HANDLING DEPARTMENT, BUDA DIVISION, MILWAUKEE 1, WISCONSIN

ALLIS-CHALMERS

The same trucks that do the stacking also transport appliances from end of assembly line to storage, and from storage to loading docks. Two-way radio dispatch system expedites movement.

BAKER TRUCKS give General Electric Appliance Park "floor-to-ceiling" utilization of warehouse space!

Every cubic foot of storage space in this mammoth appliance warehouse is utilized by compact stacking. Baker Trucks, equipped with a special lift attachment that handles cartons or crates without forks, help do the job.

General Electric has a fleet of 13 such trucks at this installation and is adding 5 more. This new concept in appliance handling completely eliminates the use of pallets—which would have meant an additional investment 8 or 9 times the cost of the trucks. The absence of forks and pallets makes possible stacking one tier higher and reduces aisle space required, thus increasing storage capacity more than 25%

The trucks have a total lift of 242 inches. Appliances are handled 4 per load for the bottom 2 tiers, and 2 per load for upper tiers. Gravity sliding back-rest aligns loads perfectly with tiers below and protects them from impact damage. Side-shifter butts loads snugly against adjacent stack for lateral alignment.

A Baker handling engineer can help you devise similar cost-saving methods in your plant or warehouse. Call your nearest Baker representative or write us direct,

WHEN WAREHOUSES TO SERVE YOU

SERVICE REALLY COUNTS

Our Member Warehouses provide a complete warehousing and distribution service. The requirements of shippers and manufacturers generally are to some extent similar but many, if not most, manufacturers have individual problems peculiar to their own specific operation which may necessitate some departure from so-called standard practice. Our Member Warehouses appreciate the importance of this and are in a position to provide the necessary flexibility to accomplish it.

It is our sincere desire to be of service to you with your present and future warehousing problems. Prompt deliveries and efficient distribution are more important than ever and we feel that our interests and those of our accounts are very closely related in this respect.

We earnestly solicit your consideration of these warehouses on the basis of intelligent and efficient service at reasonable cost. Any D.S. Inc. office or Member Warehouse will consider it a privilege to be of service to you, and any information you may desire will be gladly furnished without obligation.

Bill Introduced to Amend Interstate Commerce Act

A Bill was introduced by Rep. Harris on Jan. 14 which would amend Section IV of the Interstate Commerce Act. The Bill would eliminate the necessity of securing prior ICC approval for publication of rates over circuitous routes equivalent to the going rates over direct routes of the same type of carrier, when such rates are necessary because of competitive factors. The Bill was introduced at the request of the ICC.

Truck-Trailer Manufacturers Meet in California; Industry Outlook for '57 Called Favorable

The Truck-Trailer Manufacturers Association, at its 16th annual meeting in California last month, heard predictions of "a continued good demand for truck-trailers" this year. This note of optimism was sounded by C. L. Schneider, outgoing president.

Speaking of the so-called tight credit situation that exists today, Schneider claimed that credit should ease as the year progresses. Other factors which point to a good year, he said, include help from the Small Business Administration, the new multi-billion dollar road construction program, and the growth of piggy-back and piggy-boat systems.

The TTMA Legislative Committee reported that the industry will support legislation in this session of Congress to protect vehicle loans. Such action is planned to make financing easier for purchasers.

In a Traffic Committee report, a program was set forth to reduce transportation costs and take advantage of savings. The report suggested audit of freight bills, application for rate adjustments, better inventory control, and more economical routing.

Speakers at the five-day meeting included former ICC Commissioner and Defense Transport Administrator James K. Knudsen; Neil J. Curry, past president of the ATA; R. C. Williams, ATA president; A. D. Condon, general counsel to the Independent Advisory Committee to the Trucking Industry, and Arthur C. Butler, director of the National Highway Users Conference.

The most direct approach to the job of moving freight

Why? Because truck transport is the only transportation system that provides dock-to-door service. In addition to being fast, flexible, and versatile in their application, trucks allow freight to travel undisturbed from origin to destination, escaping the hazards and delays of frequent handling.

Isn't it plain to see why trucks are preferred . . . to the extent of handling more than three times the tonnage moved by all the other forms of transportation combined?

One Foot Up-or Two?

"More and more science is being applied to the solution of industrial problems . . . the volume of information is becoming more and more complex.

The above is a partial quote from the opening paragraph of an article in this issue. It is just an introductory remark. The author doesn't develop that point except to show there is a great need for scientific management.

As with most truths, it is simply stated. So much so, it may be glossed over. This recalls a suggestion by a Cedar Rapids reader that we "uncover the covered." So let's examine the importance of this true statement.

A basic truth is a wonderful thing. Not only is it a proved fact, it is a rule for personal conduct; usually workable backward or forward. To demonstrate, consider the latter part of the quotation: "-the volume of information needed is becoming more and more complex.

Hardly a day goes by that someone doesn't come up with one or more new ideas that will solve some problem or advance toward its solution. New tests, techniques, processes and products are being introduced continually. Each increases the "volume of information to be learned.

Consider now the person who is out of touch with these developments: If he is a staff man, he may be doing his job the hard way; unaware that there is a better way. This may be costing his firm more money than he earns. Under these conditions, his advancement is impossible.

Consider the department head: His operations may be bottlenecked internally or adversely affect related departments. His costs may be unduly high and quality substandard. His company may have many competitors but none so deadly as that one department. Not only is it like a group of termites weakening the entire company structure, it actually sabotages the efforts of the efficient departments. It may make it impossible for the sales department to meet competitive prices, quality or promptness of product delivery.

Top management is not exempt. Presidents and vice presidents can be, and are, fired by their directors and stockholders when their businesses are managed inefficiently and unprofitably. Even when companies earn a profit. stockholders may demand a change in management for greater earnings. And it's a sad case when top management doesn't know which way to turn for improvements.

Now let's consider that one of these people has an awakening. It will take a lot of research to catch up. He must burn much midnight oil. It can be done-if there is time.

Having acquired all that back knowledge is his success assured? No. The backslider merely becomes a contemporary.

Nothing more?

Nothing more. Now, he must turn to the first part of our quotation: "More and more science is being applied to the solution of industrial problems..." He must apply his full knowledge to his problem - and most important - come up with his own "science."

Contemporary knowledge moves one foot up to the next rung of the success ladder; application, the other foot,

"The ladder of success has many people on each rung. Each rung gets narrower and more crowded on the way up," lectured the boss at a management meeting.

"Yeah," whispered the personnel manager to the TM, "and most of them are the boss' relatives."
APPLICATION: "How come you gonna marry Bill instead of me, Daisy? Ain't I promised you diamonds and furs and everything?

Daisy-"Yes, but Bill's been practicing what you been preaching."
ABACUS: Mammy—"Chile, how come Moe Brown gits better 'rithmetic marks than you?

Chile-"He got an exter toe on boff of his feet. PALLETS: Foreman-"You'll never fill bigger shoes loafing on this job, Sam. Sam-Don't care. Got trouble

'nuff now buyin' dese size 14s." GLORY: "When I started working for this company, I was paid a dollar a day but delivered two dol-lars' worth," bragged the VP at the Stockholders' Meeting.

President to Treasurer: "Was he ever that good?"

Magnetic Can Remover

To The Editor:

In the September, 1956, issue of DISTRIBUTION AGE there was an article on Page 55 entitled "Metal Cans Removed by Magnetic Plate" by J. Grindrod, DA European Correspondent. The device mentioned in this article apparently is manufactured in Britain. We are interested in knowing the name of the company that manufactures this, and whether or not they have a distributor in the States.

George O. Myers Vice President

Comstock Foods, Inc. Newark, N. Y.

The name of the manufacturer of the spring-loaded magnetic plates used for removing cans from cartons is the Rapid Magnetic Machines Limited, Lombard Street, Birmingham 12, England. At the present, the firm does not have a distributor in the United States.—The Editor.

Two Points of Law

To The Editor:

A rather interesting warehouse legal case has developed with our Toronto member warehouse, Terminal Warehouses Limited, which involves two points of law:

1. Verbal notification of removal of merchandise, and,

2. Limitation of liability where the warehouse receipt was mailed to the bank direct and not to the customer.

I would like to receive your comments as to whether any similar cases have taken place in the United States and also your suggestions as to how to avoid similar situations that would provide legal loopholes for a customer to claim damages.

Clyde E. Phelps Executive Vice President Associated Warehouses, Inc. Chicago, Ill.

Such a limitation not received by the owner of the stored goods is not valid in the United States. In fact, some higher courts have held that a limitation clause is not valid unless received and accepted by the owner of the goods before the same are in storage.

Regarding your questions on verbal notifications, I do not have a copy of the Canada laws and I feel certain your lawyers can properly advise you. I shall make special effort in the future to locate a new higher court decision from the Advance Sheets on this subject of law... Leo T. Parker, DA Legal Consultant.

Metal buildings...

how good are they?

Metal buildings are as good as they are designed and manufactured. They range from the low quality "jerry-built" structure to the high quality modern Butler Metal Building—a thoroughly engineered, die-formed metal structure offering advantages not found in conventional buildings.

For example, its rigid steel frame supports the building—eliminates posts, gable trusses and load-bearing walls. Slim, rust-resistant metal cover panels, properly insulated, provide better insulating qualities than a masonry wall a foot thick.

Modern Butler metal buildings can be heated, airconditioned, ventilated and lighted more efficiently than conventional buildings. They are wind-safe, fire-safe and require very little maintenance. They are erected or expanded quickly, saving time and construction costs.

So economical they are ideal for warehouses and terminals, yet so well made they are specified for factories and commercial buildings.

Many leading corporations have examined Butler buildings, purchased them, and are thoroughly satisfied. We urge you to examine a Butler building personally. Your Butler Builder will show you ones he has erected in your area. His name is listed under "Buildings" in the yellow pages of your phone book. Or write direct. ### WASHINGTON

By Ray M. Stroupe, Chilton Washington News Bureau

CARRIER OUTPUT ESTIMATED—Level of rail freight car production should be more than 6,000 a month in the current year, official government forecasts say. But the output of motor trucks is to slacken by three per cent and truck-trailers by five per cent in the first half-year. Tonnage of ocean vessels under contract to U. S. yards will rise slightly. Aircraft producers start off the year with a $19-billion backlog in orders for airframes and components.

NASH BECOMES DEPUTY—Bradley Nash, a Harpers Ferry, W. Va., resident who has served in a number of federal posts, succeeds Brig. Gen. Thomas B. Wilson as Deputy Under Secretary of Commerce for Transportation. Mr. Nash was until recently the Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Air Force for civil aviation.

BARGE TONNAGE BOOMS—Inland waterways in the U. S. this year will carry 20 per cent more freight by barge than in the record year 1956 unless strikes or other major difficulties occur. That's the outlook as seen by the American Waterways Operators, Inc., which calls attention to the industry's first 100 billion ton-mile year. This record was achieved in 1956 despite the steel strike and lowwater interference.

STORAGE NEED EASES—Government grain storage buying seems to have passed its peak. But space will be tight in some areas next summer when the government takes over stocks of 1956 corn from farmers, the U. S. Agriculture Dept. believes. The agency can shelter 984 million bu of grain in its own bins, 302 million in on-farm storage, and 180 million in commercial warehouses. Anchored ships are housing 83 million bu of surplus wheat.

UP GETS SPOKANE ROAD—Union Pacific RR Co. is granted ICC permission to take control of the Spokane International RR Co., which offers a rail entrance into British Columbia. The transaction permitted will involve about $5.5 million in Union Pacific stock. Connecting point for the UP and Spokane International is at Spokane. Share in control of the Spokane line was sought by the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern.

SEE CARLOADING RISE—Carloadings of revenue rail freight in the current quarter are to be greater by 3.7 per cent than those in the first three months of 1956, predict the shippers' advisory boards. Cars loaded with 32 principal commodities are expected to exceed seven million, bettering the number for the comparable quarter by more than 200,000. Loadings in all of 1956 amounted to 37.8 million cars, surpassing the 1955 total by one half of one per cent.

HAULING COST SHOWN—Transportation is accounting for a larger part of the consumer's food dollar. Figures compiled by the U. S. Agriculture Dept. for 1955 show that  $8\phi$  of every food dollar went for transportation, compared to less than  $6\phi$  in 1945. But the added processing of food does not increase the hauler's portion of the retail price. His share of the final price of unprocessed products he hauls actually is higher.

COAL SHIPS DELAYED—Labor disputes in January slowed plans of American Coal Shipping, Inc., (ACS), to start moving coal to Europe in Liberty ships chartered from the government. One Liberty owned, rather than chartered, by ACS was unloading coal in Italy early in January. When the 30 ships ACS requested from the government are ready for sea, the firm will ask for 50 more.

DENY PIER PAYMENTS—Government shippers learn from the U. S. Supreme Court that the railroads need not give them a rate allowance for wharfage services on federal export freight. The court upholds an ICC ruling that the roads were correct in collecting the same rate for Army and private export shipments through Norfolk, Va. Denied an allowance for pier services it provided, the Army charged the roads with an IC Act violation.

FUEL AGENCY FORMED—Commercial storage and services for military petroleum stocks are to be arranged now through the new Military Petroleum Supply Agency (MPSA). This office replaces the Armed Services Petroleum Purchasing Agency, formally disbanded early this year. The MPSA also has responsibilities in the procurement, inspection and cataloging of petroleum and in the coordination of distribution systems.

FOOD HINTS RELATED—Facts on preventing spoilage of fresh and frozen farm products hauled by truck are discussed at length in a new government handbook. Effective methods for loading these items in trucks and trailers are suggested. Office of Information, U. S. Agriculture Dept., Washington 25, will supply single copies of Agriculture Handbook No. 105, "Protection of Perishable Foods During Transportation by Truck."

Bigger payloads

One of 9 reasons why fleets find

cost least to own!

What cuts your hauling cost the most? Bigger payload? International Trucks have it with lightweight construction wherever practical to let less metal do more work. With models that give you shortest possible BC dimensions.

The reason is one simple, sound International policy: to build trucks that do the job better, do it longer, do it at lower cost than any other make—to spend more to build it so it costs you less to operate.

They do cost less to own, and fleet cost records prove* it. That's why fleet operators have bought more Internationals than any other heavy-duty truck for the past 24 straight years.

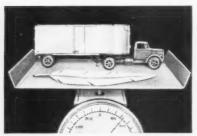

The way to start piling up payloads, and trimming costs, is to talk trucks with your International Dealer, today. He's right at the other end of your phone.

1 Hundreds of extra payload pounds are yours with lightweight construction that makes less metal do more work. Models available with aluminum frame and other weight-saving components. Space Saver cab for still more payload.

2 Rugged frame has plenty of sturdy crossmembers. Non-crystallizing, cold squeezed rivets are used for extra rigidity and proper flexibility on all types of service. Husky front and rear sections add to the safety margin built into every frame.

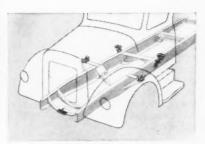

3 Cradle action front and rear springs cushion load and driver. Proper design and mounting provide better load support, smoother riding and longer spring life. Rear-shackled front springs for greater stability and increased life.

4 Full air brakes are standard or available on most models with lining areas to match the model, load and operating conditions. Twin-cylinder selfcentering, self-energizing hydraulic brakes provide safer, easier stops and longer life.

Safer, easier steering and greater maneuverability result from cam and twin lever gears with controls mounted ahead of front axle. Steering wheel is comfortably positioned. Power steering available on most models.

6 For cab comfort and long life. Quiet, level ride without transmitting stress to cab, fenders, hood or radiator is the result of wide spaced, rear shackle type mountings in an exclusive INTERNATIONAL 5-point rubber-insulated V-8 cab suspension.

FREQUENCY

the most frequent schedules in airfreight enable American to serve traffic executives better than any other airline

With over 1000 scheduled departures daily, American offers more flights to more key areas than any other airline. American's greater frequency of flights assures fast forwarding, dependable on-time deliveries. This enables traffic executives to cut shipping time from days to hours.

AMERICAN AIRLINES AIRFREIGHT

-flies more freight than any other airline in the world

A SITUATION of far reaching significance is developing in the airfreight field. It involves the much debated principle of carrier vs. government rate making.

In 1948, several all-cargo air carriers were temporarily certificated by the CAB. At that time the CAB placed a floor under rates. It set minimums of 16 cents per tonmile for the first 1000 ton-miles of any one shipment, and 13 cents a ton-mile for all additional ton-miles of any one shipment.

This was done to prevent unlimited rate cutting in competition between combination airlines and the all-cargo operators.

Some in the industry questioned the wisdom of setting minimum rates so far below what appeared to be the current industry cost levels. The Board, however, intended these rates to be just what they were called—minimum and not actual. This was to provide for experiments as to rates in the development of cargo service.

Minimum vs. Maximum

The faith of the Board in the stabilizing power of minimum rates was unfounded. A regulated minimum rate, in most cases, becomes a maximum rate where route competition exists. Although the Board suggested that carriers set their rates above the minima prescribed, the direct competitive situation proved a perfect set of circumstances for this rule to prove itself.

By mid-1953, operating expenses of the all-cargo operators were so close to minimum rates that they were no longer effective in preventing competition from holding rates below the cost of carriage in all-cargo aircraft. Financial reports of the two major all-cargo carriers showed that one was barely breaking even and the other was suffering substantial losses.

The cargo carriers requested that the minima be raised. The Board agreed. New rates were set at 20 cents per ton-mile for the

Rate-Making Wrangle in the Airfreight Field

The author claims that our competitive rate structure, as opposed to government control, is being threatened by current developments first 1,000 ton-miles, and  $16\frac{1}{4}$  cents for each additional ton-mile of any one shipment.

Granting the 1953 increases, over the objections of at least one of the combination airlines, American, was unprecedented. The only immediate considerations were that two of the cargo carriers were conducting marginal operations, and that one of them needed immediate relief.

The Board gave no consideration to statutory rate-making factors. These include the effect of rates on the movement of traffic, the public interest in having adequate and efficient transportation at the lowest cost consistent with furnishing such service, and the efficiency of carrier operations.

In August, 1956, Flying Tiger, along with United, Slick and TWA, instructed their tariff agent, Air Cargo, Inc., to file a general freight rate increase. The increase, of approximately three per cent, was to take effect Nov. 30, 1956. This was thought necessary by these carriers if "substantial air freight losses were to be averted." American Airlines declined to go along with the increase.

Such an action, under present competitive conditions, would impel the other carriers to withdraw their proposal to avoid loss of position if they attempted to charge higher rates than American. This is the play of competition, one carrier against another in rates and service, on which shippers have a right to rely.

Having before been protected by the CAB in the matter of minimum rates, it is not surprising that one of the all-cargo carriers, Flying Tiger Line, then appealed to the Board to require American to go along with the others through provision of a new set of minima.

This latest move of an all-cargo carrier virtually is a request that the Board assume a basic function of management—the setting of rates.

For the Board to usurp this valuable tool of management is contrary to the intent of Congress in the Act of 1938. The Act provides for rate regulation in air transportation. It would be contrary also to the basic purpose of the original minimum rate order of 1948.

Small-Order Distribution via Mechanical Bookkeeping

Tabulating machine shown reading information from master card. Machine has cut order invoicing time

HOW a public warehouse using machine bookkeeping and radio-dispatched carriers can gain volume and cut shipping costs for merchants and manufacturers is being demonstrated by Goose Island Warehouses, Inc., in Chicago.

One client, a bicycle manufacturer who formerly found it unprofitable to handle lots of less than 200, now uses Goose Island's facilities for orders totaling as low as five in number. The unit cost for this manufacturer has been lowered to 60¢ per order.

The key to this cost cutting method of distribution is a statistical machine installation which, among other functions, in-voices, controls inventory, sends out statements and is used for addressing. Some idea of how this system has speeded shipments can be obtained with the company report that up to January, 1955, before accounting machines were used, it required about seven days to invoice an order. It now takes 20 minutes.

Goose Island warehouse, formerly a tannery, was converted, at a cost of $60,000, six years ago. It is a five-story building containing 155,000 sq ft of floor space. The building is bounded by the deep-channelled Chicago river on the west for boat dockage, and a rail spur on the east. Seven truck doors are on the south and east sides.

The warehouse is located in the center of one of Chicago's important industrial districts where there is a heavy emphasis on products for the paint industry.

Storage Plan

The warehouse ships about 600,000 lb of merchandise a day. The building is laid out so that dense, bulky drums of oil, flour, and limestone, all fast movers, are stored on the first floor. Upper floors are devoted to furniture, appliances, bicycles, etc. Most of the operation is palletized, the loads being

Case History

Here is a case history of how accounting machines relieve the distribution headaches of small-orders for the bicycle manufacturer. After an order arrives at the warehouse, the punch card editor pulls the firm's master card and checks it for stock balance. She then starts a new deduction card and sends both to the tabulation room where the new card is key punched.

This card then is read by the machine, deductions are made on it, and the card goes back to the card editor as the new master card. The editor pastes labels and bill of lading to the order, and notifies the warehouse foreman that the lot is ready for picking.

Fast Inventory

The mechanical accounting system makes it possible to control inventories at all times and to reduce the time required for sending out inventory statements. Formerly, it required four days work for two girls to send a client his inventory statement; now it takes 15 minutes to do the job.

This use of punch cards recently aided the company when a large department store conducted a warehouse sale. Goose Island started deliveries of thousands of week-end orders in sequence on Monday by using its mechanical accounting equipment.

Radio System

Since Goose Island stresses a low cost service to its customers, trucking costs are an important item. Formerly, the warehouse was paying drivers an appreciable amount of overtime pay, caused largely by waiting time. The company then installed a two-way radio system that reaches all its drivers within a 32-mile radius from the warehouse.

With this equipment, it is possible for Goose Island to keep close checks on loading and unloading periods at terminals and charge commensurate rates.

Overtime Cut

Radio has brought about a 36 per cent reduction in overtime with truck efficiency being increased by 25 per cent. Over-all hauling costs per ton have been reduced 21 per cent.

When and When Not to Use

How to decide when distances become too great for fork lift operation and work

A DECISION often faced in the materials handling field is whether to move materials by an industrial tractor-trailer system or by a fork truck system.

Analysis of the job, based on three considerations, will lead to the right decision.

Length of Haul

First to be considered is length of haul. The recommended minimum tractor-trailer haul varies from 150 to 300 ft.

For example, the Materials Handling Manual of the U. S. Navy says on Page 48, Section 1, "Tractor-trailer trains should be used on hauls of 150 ft or more."

On Page 33 of the same manual, the Nacy recommends, "The fork truck should be supplemented by tractor-trailer trains for the long haul of more than 200 ft." The Materials Handling Handbook Series A, Official Air-Service Command, says on Page 9, "Tractor-trailers should be used for horizontal movement of loaded pallets and other materials—when distance is in excess of 300 ft."

Another recognized authority, Matthew W. Potts, DA materials handling consultant, on Page 12 of his book, Materials Handling Equipment, agreed in effect with the Air-Service Command.

He said, "While fork trucks occasionally may be used as tractors, they are most efficiently employed for loading pallets on or off trailers. They should not travel with individual loads for more than 300 ft."

As a manufacturer of this equipment, the Mercury Manufacturing Co., recommends maximum fork-truck haul of 200 ft. Goods to be moved more than 200 ft should be moved on tractor-trailer trains.

As for maximum length of tractor-trailer haul, there is no limit except time. A tractor, fully loaded, moves at about 3 mph. Therefore, hauls of a mile or more would consume much time. These long operations are shipping rather than materials handling.

At the General Electric Co. plant in Schenectady, N. Y., however, an industrial tractor-trailer train carried 60 oil furnaces, three per trailer, between final assembly and the warehouse, a distance of 34 mile. Excellent floor conditions permitted this use. The haul was economical.

Second consideration is combination systems. Basic functions of the fork truck and the industrial tractor-trailer are different. Combined, however, they offer a system that is efficient, fast, and economical.

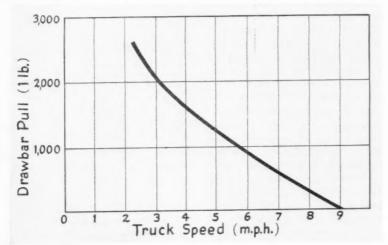

The Air-Service Command handbook stresses this on Page 7. It says, "The tractor-trailer train operates as a true haulage system. The fork truck acts as a powered elevator at storage points."

Unit Load Bulletin, a publication of the Electrical Industrial Truck Association, emphasizes this. "When distance is a factor," it says, "it is more economical to combine the tractor-trailer system with the fork-truck pallet system."

Combination of fork truck and tractor-trailer has filled one of industry's great needs in handling. This has been especially true because of rapid increase in palletization and unitizing.

The fork truck manipulates the is better suited to combination of industrial trucks and trailers unit loads for hauling and loads the trailers. The tractor makes the haul and a fork truck unloads the trailers.

This combination also is useful for terminal operations of common carriers. Here, the tractortrailer is a highly flexible conveyor.

Cost Factor

The third basis to consider in deciding when to use industrial trucks with trailers is cost.

Here are approximate average factors for figuring whether or not a tractor-trailer system would be economical for a given operation. If these figures show the application to be economical, specific figures should be obtained.

1. Under ideal conditions (smooth, level concrete floors) a trailer load of one ton requires 40 lb of drawbar pull by a tractor. To make the calculation on this basis, estimate that the actual terrain, without steep grades, will double the drawbar pull for ideal conditions.

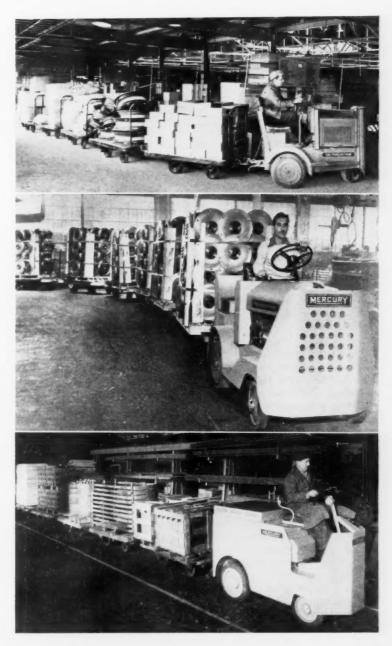

2. Trailer weight varies with design. The most popular type of trailer — the two-ton-capacity caster-steer unit—weighs about 500 lb. Trailers designed for special duty usually weigh more.

Reciprocal Switching -Shipper's Privilege

A continuation of the principles of connection terminal switching, including switching limits, distances, line haul vs. switching, and an outline of switching rules governing public team and private tracks

THE AREA of a station within which connection terminal (reciprocal) switching is performed under switching charges, rules and regulations is called the switching limits. Limits may follow the municipal boundaries of a city, but do not necessarily do so.<sup>22</sup>

Where switching limits are not named in a carrier's tariffs, it has been held that the switching rates applied to the entire area served by the railroad within city limits. Rates do not apply merely to some undefined section or portion of the city.<sup>23</sup>

It is permissible for a railway to establish its terminal or switching district. The fact that the boundaries are not within city limits is not controlling. Ordinarily, switching limits are determined by the area within which carriers actually render switching service. 25

Reasonable Limits

A switching district must, of course, terminate within reasonable limits. Its boundaries should depend upon the peculiar circumstances and conditions in each case. These include extent of the industrial district, relative mileages, transportation conditions, and commercial competition.<sup>26</sup>

There is a limit beyond which the Commission should not require

Part II

By Ben W. Erickson

a switching district to be extended. In determining that limit, the actual extent of the industrial section must be given due weight.<sup>27</sup>

Under general railroad practice, a terminal (the switching limits of a station) is considered a unit. Rates published for application from the station apply from all points within the terminal. They apply either with or without the addition of switching charges.<sup>28</sup> The Commission does not favor the zoning of switching districts where it can be avoided.<sup>29</sup>

To accord equal services to industries in the same industrial district is one of the prime reasons for maintaining the same general level of rates or charges to all points within that district.<sup>30</sup>

Section 2 of the Interstate Commerce Act is directed primarily against discrimination between shippers located in the same community. It is aimed to put all shippers within a district upon a substantial equality.<sup>31</sup> The Commission has on occasion required a carrier or carriers to include within a switching district a complaining industry which has proved undue preference.<sup>32</sup>

Restrictions

A railroad has no right by tariff to include within a switching district tracks over which the carrier has no right to operate as a common carrier, or which cannot be served by other common carriers through switching arrangements.<sup>33</sup>

Where a carrier serves certain industries located adjacent to the tracks of another carrier, over which it operates under trackage rights, it is justified in canceling switching charges between those industries and connecting line-haul carriers. The Act cannot undertake to equalize conditions and advantages among shippers differently located.<sup>34</sup>

A point cannot properly be a separate station and also within the limits of another switching district. Carriers violate the Commission's tariff rules by maintaining line-haul rates to a point within the switching limits of another station. Such publication of rates is duplication, likely to result in conflict.<sup>35</sup>

A carrier may, however, include a station point in its switching district as to one industry, and exclude it as to others. Also, an

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of three articles by Mr. Erickson. The concluding article will cover switching charges and obscription.

Switching District Limits

There is a limit beyond which the Interstate Commerce Commission should not require a switching district to be extended. Carriers are within their rights in establishing reasonable territorial limits for the operation of their switch engines. Carriers are within their rights, also, in giving industries within these limits the benefits of resulting economies.

In determining switching limits, the actual extent of the industrial section must be given due weight.

industry may be embraced in the switching district of one carrier and not in that of another serving the same point.<sup>36</sup>

Widening of a terminal's switching limits to include points formerly local stations on the railroad made that railroad a switching line in respect to shipments delivered to connecting lines at that terminal. This justified the application of the line-haul rates from the terminal.<sup>37</sup>

Proposed narrowing of switching district limits to exclude a certain point, thereby eliminating the necessity of absorbing switching charges, was found not justified. In this case carriers were contemporaneously absorbing switching charges on like traffic from another point for like and contemporaneous services under similar conditions.<sup>38</sup>

A showing that Newport News was local to the Chesapeake and Ohio and that joint rates applied did not justify the non-absorption of switching charges to that point. Newport News and Norfolk-Portsmouth were declared in reality parts of a single port area.<sup>39</sup>

Distance is a factor in determining the extent of switching limits. It is not, however, a controlling factor.<sup>40</sup> More important considerations have to do with industrial development.<sup>41</sup>

within switching limits points of shipment and delivery within a five-mile radius of the station was found unduly preferential of competing points with the limits.<sup>42</sup>

Five-mile switching hauls, from carrier's yard or from its interchange with connecting lines, are not excessive for performance under line-haul rates. Where complaining an industry was approximately four miles from an industrial section, and located in a strictly residential section, the Commission found the disabilities that complainant suffered were due to its location.

Though a certain industrial zone happened to be 20 miles distant by rail, it was found to be industrially, economically, and physically a part of the industrial district of the city. The Commission found it to be in the public interest that such zone be included within the switching district.<sup>45</sup>

Though the switching movement might take place over a very short distance, the switching road still is entitled to receive a reasonable charge for this movement.<sup>46</sup>

The very nature of switching rates, applying within an industrial district for hauls of varying lengths on an all-commodity basis, involves disregard of distance.<sup>47</sup>

Average hauls in the larger switching districts will, of course, be longer than in the smaller districts. Average hauls in the very large districts, like Chicago, would be such as to suggest that they are in effect line hauls. They would be line hauls but for the fact that they are performed within a switching district of unusual size.<sup>48</sup>

A carrier has the right to limit the distance to which it will switch over its terminals. So long as this limitation does not result in undue prejudice to shippers over its line, the carrier is acting within its rights.<sup>49</sup>

A railroad serving a particular plant is under no compulsion to forego the origination or delivery of traffic at that plant in favor of a competing carrier merely because service by the latter involves a shorter switch movement.<sup>50</sup>

Line-Haul vs. Switching

Often there is a dispute as to whether a service is line-haul or switching, and the switching district is not clearly defined. In such cases, the Commission will determine the limits to be those within which the carrier actually performs the switching service.<sup>51</sup>

Certain factors have influenced findings in disputes over whether service is line-haul or switching. Length of haul is not always the determining factor. A road-haul movement may be very short and may be performed within the corporate limits of a city.<sup>52</sup>

A fair test is to determine which branch of railroad service moves the freight. If the move is performed by a switch crew under the supervision of a yard master, it is a switching service. If it is handled under regular billing in trains subject to control of a train dispatcher, it is a line-haul.<sup>53</sup>

The absorption by line-haul carriers of charges for the movement between a plant and the junction, together with the payment of per diem reclaims to the short line, is an indication that the service is regarded as switching. Charges for road-haul transportation cannot lawfully be absorbed.<sup>54</sup> Manner of publishing the charge does not determine whether a particular movement is line-haul or switching. It is determined, rather,

Warehousing Riddle Finds an

Selection of a warehousing plan from those available

—private, leased, public, or combination—should only follow a careful analysis of costs and job needs

By George S. Odiorne

Associate Director, Management Course American Management Association, New York, N. Y.

Part I

This is the first of a series of two articles by Mr. Odiorne on warehousing. In the concluding article Mr. Odiorne will discuss warehousing techniques, and warehousing architecture and related problems.

ORE and more science is being applied to the solution of industrial problems. With this trend, the knowledge and information needed by management to apply these scientific solutions is becoming more and more complex.

The need is particularly important in the field of warehousing. This is true because warehousing spans a number of fields, overlaps several others, and usually means different things to different people.

The warehousing phase of physical distribution is responsible for a major part of the product cost in some items, and an important part in many items.

There are three sections of the warehousing pattern:

- 1. Economics.
- 2. Techniques.
- 3. Architecture and related problems.

It is my belief that the sections must be considered in the above order. Techniques of storing, stacking, weighing, packing, and order picking may be the best possible. However, if costs, cash position, or the basic financial position of the firm will not support such an elaborate plan, the plan will fail. This can lead to financial ruin or, at least, to reduced profits.

At the same time, a building may be aesthetically sound, but may lack the functional qualities for efficient warehousing. When this happens, all of the civic beautification awards in the country will not avert financial disaster.

Warehousing Economics

Three major considerations govern the economics of warehousing. They apply to both large and small companies. They are:

- 1. Your financial position. How much working capital do you have to sink into warehousing? If you can farm out or reduce stored goods, might this capital be better used to develop production facilities?
- 2. Your cash position. In time of expansion it is possible that a reduced investment in inventory is essential to permit growth. Even in the most financially secure firms, the cash budget must be weighed carefully in setting warehouse policy.
- 3. Cost control. Every company, large and small, must be cost conscious. In choosing a method of warehousing a company must have some figures for cost comparison.

Warehousing, with the three economic factors listed above, is of some concern to all companies. Few if any firms have been able to eliminate the warehousing function completely. Even metal can manufacturers who build next to packers' plants—such as American Can and General Foods, in Hoboken, N. J.—must set up warehousing programs for incoming materials.

Three Alternatives

Once the economic factors have been considered, the distribution manager has three warehousing alternatives. He can build or buy his own warehouse and operate it; he can lease warehouse buildings or space and operate them, or he can give the job to the public warehouse industry and pay a fee for such service.

Each of the alternatives represents a special case and requires a basic decision. Many companies use a combination of all three types of warehousing. Basically, the three types involve:

1. Build or buy. If you fall into this category, you have to be vitally interested in the functions of warehousing. You will have to consider location and architecture. These points will be covered in Part II of this series. See also, "So

Editor's Note: Mr. Odiorne's remarks originally were presented in a paper entitled, "Warehousing," at the 10th Annual Industrial Packaging and Materials Handling Exposition and Short Course, sponsored by SIPMHE.

Answer

You Want to Build a Warehouse," DISTRIBUTION AGE, January, 1956, p. 36.

2. Leased warehousing. In this category you are avoiding the financial investment aspects. You expense the building itself as rent, along with other distribution costs. This involves some financial pencil pushing on cost estimates by your accountant.

If this form of warehousing proves favorable, you are ready to plan techniques. Here you may run into difficulty. Leasing warehouses at a reasonable price often means accepting a building that was not designed for the efficient performance of your warehouse operation. Leasing is sound in many businesses, and may be in yours.

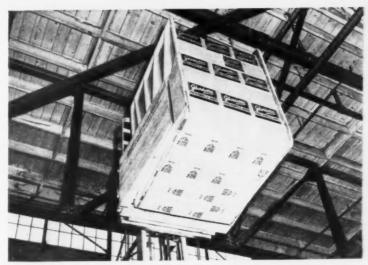

In leasing, however, one question must be answered in order to produce an honest cost evaluation: "How much extra is it costing the company because we are renting a building which isn't ideal for the job?"

The answer to this question cannot be obtained by studying accounting statements. The books will not show the difference between what is and what might have been. Only a professional appraisal by yourself or by a skilled engineer will give a true picture.

You may argue that such an evaluation is purely academic, since your company cannot afford to buy or build its own ideal warehouse in any case. This is only partly true. You may not be able to buy a new warehouse, but the third solution may prove most economical of the three.

3. Public warehousing. One of the world's oldest professional services is the public warehouse. It dates back to Biblical times. It also flourished during the commercial revolution which preceded

Hydraulic elamping arms of steel and rubber give an even squeeze for lifting cartons of fruit being high piled without pallets in Oakland, Cal., terminal

ClampingArmsEliminate Pallets in Terminal

Lift trucks with new accessory save $15,000 in pallet cost while eliminating sorting time, pallet storage space, and lost shipping space

HYDRAULIC hugging arms, instead of conventional forks on lift trucks, have eliminated pallets at an Oakland, Calif., freight terminal.

No Pallet Cost

Operators of the 50,000-sq ft Howard Terminal report that lift trucks equipped with the squeeze-and-lift device have resulted in a $15,000 savings in pallet cost. Other savings are storage space for pallets, labor to move and sort pallets, and the truck and shipping space taken up by the pallets.

The clamping arms have been developed as an accessory for lift trucks. They can be removed in five minutes.

Range of Commodities

With a lifting capacity of 4,000 lb, the arms will handle a myriad of commodities ranging from cartons of canned goods, fruit lug boxes, and drums to bales and coils. They will grab and lift loads up to 71 in. wide.

Clamping arms can be used bare for commodities which are baled, or be equipped with 48x60 in. pads. The steel pads are lined with sections of serrated rubber.

The Lite Line Industries Div. of Copperloy Corp. has announced development of a new flatcar apron. Designed to use as bridging between flat cars in the new truck-rail, piggy-back service, the aprons also are used for other applications where lightweight bridging is necessary for the movement of heavily loaded vehicles. The aprons are used in pairs. Because of their light weight—less than 100 lb each—they are portable and can be quickly positioned by one man without fear of injury. The ramps will support an axle loading of 50,000 lb.

Cargo Tie-Down Rope Lock

Elimination of the tying and untying of troublesome rope knots in cargo tie-down and other applications is claimed for the new Aeroquip Ropelock. The lock is designed for use with either 3½ in. manila or nylon rope. Its flexibility and simplicity provide a quick, easy method of securing almost any type of load. Tension on the lock is automatically locked at whatever maximum pull is exerted—there can be no slackening or backlash. The load can be instantly released by pressing down on the cam, the only moving part. Strengths of 1000 lb with nylon or 700 lb with manila rope are obtain-

A new, light-weight, Model A, general purpose tying machine has been produced by Inland Wire Products. The machine is especially useful where problems exist with parcel post shipments and light-weight packaging. Meeting U.S. postal standards, it is 4½ in. wide by 7½ in. long, and weighs only 2½ lb. One forward and backward move of the handle is all that is necessary to complete a tie.

with its line of electric fork trucks. The stabilizer is ideal for handling loads of case goods that cannot be nested or tied together. The stabilizer consists of three sponge rubber-lined pads which are mounted on pivots so that loads with objects of varying heights can be handled. The 78-in. sponge rubber lining has a facing of neoprene to provide long life. The leading edge of the rubber lining is protected by a steel lip. The stabilizer has a vertical stroke of 24 in. opening from a minimum height of 40 in. above the fork to a maximum of 64 in.

A parts storage box, constructed from grooved fir plywood, that features interchangeable shelves and partitions has been developed by the Douglas Fir Plywood Assn. The box is ideal for terminal garages and warehouses that have storage problems. Dimensions for this light-weight box vary according to the needs of each builder. However, the box requires 2-in. groove-spaced T 1-11 for its two sides, top, bottom and box partitions. The T 1-11 acts in effect as pre-cut

Reducing ratio of truck weights to load capacities, new battery-powered walkies, in a variety of models engineered as required, are announced by Liftequip Co. They offer a solution to handling heavy loads on restricted floors and elevators. The trucks handle up to 2000 lb without exceeding a total weight of 3500 lb. Easo-Lift is an outrigger type having two speeds forward and two speeds reverse. Turning radius is 66 in. for maneuverability in narrow aisles and close quarters. Lift-equip offers several models weighing between 1000 and 1500 lb.

Ease of assembly and versatility and features claimed for a new platform truck kit manufactured by Milwaukee Truck Co. Because all the parts except the platform are included in the kit, the buyer has his choice of platform size and material to meet his own particular needs. Assembly time is negligible for a standard deck platform truck when the simple instructions included in the kit are followed. Special tools or skills are not needed.

Boxcar Anchor Plates

Model NSFA-114 anchor plates, developed by Signode Steel Strapping Co., are used in boxcars having three types of construction. Used with heavy-duty steel strapping, they prevent any movement of the load in cars having nailable steel flooring, floors reinforced with perforated steel plates, and in ordinary boxcars where strapping must be attached to the wall at an angle. These plates feature maximum holding power in all applications because of three factors: Anchor point is closer to center of plate; construction is of heavy gage steel which has been wheelabrated; provision is made for use of more nails in attaching plate to desired surface.

Hand Hydraulic Straddle Lift

Langley Mfg. Co. has announced a new multi-purpose hand hydraulic straddle fork-lift which is capable of doing the work of a skid lift truck, pallet truck, and high lift trucks.

Adjustable straddle legs accommodate pallets or skids having widths from 30 to 48 in., and lengths up to 48 in. The adjustable forks can be raised 3 in., the same as a lift truck; 4 in., the same as a pallet truck, or higher, up to 12 in. Lifts can be furnished up to 96 in.

Re-Usable Carton Tool

Shipping departments should be pleased with the new tool called the Carton Sizer. It makes possible the re-use of odd size cartons by scoring box walls to depth desired so sides can be folded to proper size in one easy operation. This eliminates the need for stuffing material and excelsior, thereby saving additional weight and providing a snug-fitting carton. The sizer is made of aluminum with a needle-sharp scoring wheel. It is a product of Markay Products.

Damage-Free Coil Car

The new Evans Products Co. coil car eliminates damage to coil steel from load shifting, impact and weather. It does away with expensive and less effective dunnaging and shrouding. It cuts loading and unloading time. Two cylindrical metal shells fitted lengthwise to a standard railroad flat car comprise the car's exterior. One man can crank open the cylindrical encasement in 45 seconds. A mechanical crank-and-gear installation in the center of the car, between shells, opens and closes the cylindrical encasement along the axial length at the top. Within, coils of rolled sheet steel in king-size lots (up to 7 ft in diameter) are locked horizontally with wood-cushioned steel cross-members, at inch intervals, in a V-shaped floor-seating a foot and a half deep.

Emergency Lighting Unit

A new emergency lighting unit, which operates automatically and instantaneously during failures of normal power and automatically prepares itself for the next blackout, has been developed by Exide Industrial Div. of The Electric Storage Battery Co. Immediately following an emergency discharge, the Model A automatically recharges its storage battery at a high rate. At the end of the high-rate charge the Lightguard automatically returns the battery to a trickle-rate to maintain itself for service.

2000-lb Lift Truck

Greater power and faster, easier operation are claimed for the newly announced Hyster 20 lift truck. Model QC, 2000-lb capacity on pneumatic tires. Increased versatility is reported with the addition of new optional job attachments and LP-Gas installations.

High torque characteristics and increased horsepower is provided by Wisconsin's new 4-cyl air-cooled model VH4 engine. Improved operating ease and speed result from a repositioned instrument panel, improved upright design and use of constant mesh transmission. makes it possible to have an accurate count on several lines by switching from line to line as necessary. The counter can be positioned for flow counting in either direction and hooks quickly over the axles of a conveyor line when flow direction is changed.

Straddle Trailer

Designed to end the need for loading cranes, a new 20-ton straddle trailer has been announced by Mighty Mover Co. It is a four-wheel device, open in the center to permit backing over loads. It is 35 ft long, 12 ft, 6 in. high, and 6 ft wide. The trailer can be hooked on to any tractor equipped with a winch. After the trailer backs over the load, the load is raised by means of a winch and cables. The load is carried in a manner similar to that used by end-loading carriers.

A new Model Sten-C-Labl squeeze-feed applicator permits clear, sharp impressions every time the applicator is used to address direct to cartons, printed labels, or tags. The ink supply in the printing pad is regulated by squeezing the polyethylene ink bottle. Better control of the flow of ink is possible with the addition of plastic sides to the Applicator. A further convenience is a new metal holder.

"King-size" model A-520 fifth-wheel trailer, announced by Mercury Manufacturing Co. is 216 in. long and 84 in. wide. Designed to handle general cargo, the trailer has a capacity of 12,000 lb. The deck is made of hardwood set flush with the frame and held down by countersunk metal strips. Ten rectangular stake pockets—three inboard on each side and two outboard on each end—are welded to the frame to allow variation in superstructure to suit the load.

sion, lightweight aluminum construction and turbo-charged diesel engine.

It is rated at 55,000 lb gcw and weighs only 9434 lb, including fifth wheel, trailer connection, 100-gal fuel tanks and 21,000-lb rated rear axle. Air suspension is intended to lessen driver fatigue, reduce cargo breakage, cut maintenance, and permit less-expensive packaging.

Steel Containers

Bennett Industries, Inc., has three steel shipping containers suitable for all methods of packaging a number of products. Styles include full open-head pails with lug covers, tight-head pails with fittings and spouts, and dome-top utility cans with fill and pour spouts. Circle 26 on Card Facing Page 49

Converts Single-Axle Tractors into Tandems

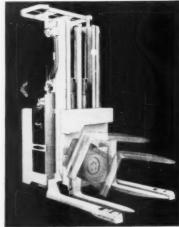

A new unit to convert single axle tractors into tandem units has been marketed by Fruehauf Trailer Co. This new unit, applied to a single axle tractor, permits the operator to legally increase the gross load. It has an adjustmental tractor and fifth wheel locations. It may be readily uncoupled to revert to a single axle tractor for hauling light loads. It can be attached or uncoupled by one man. The spacing of the axle center-lines with the Tonnage Master can be varied from a 46 in. minimum up to 58 in. maximum.

Revolving Fork Truck

An electric truck with revolving forks has been designed by The Raymond Corp. to serve a dual purpose.

The revolving feature allows small parts to be dumped from steel boxes into hoppers. When the forks are in a normal position the truck is used to stack boxes in storage areas. A hydraulic motor powers the revolving mechanism through a chain driven sprocket and gear reduction. The forks move in a continuous 360 deg are in both clockwise and counterclockwise directions. Movement is controlled by a hand operated hydraulic valve.

Four-in-One Attachment

The Frank G. Hough Co. has just announced that its entire line of four-wheel-drive Payloader tractor-shovels now offer Drott four-in-one buckets as optional equipment. This attachment can be used as a shovel, a clamshell, a scraper or a bulldozer. As a conventional tractor-shovel bucket it can be used to dig, carry and dump in the regular manner. The clamshell action can be used to clean up small piles, to pick up material without tractor travel or to grasp and handle stumps, pipe, timbers and the like. With slight clam-lip opening it becomes a carry-all scraper that heaploads itself, carries and spreads thin layers or dumps completely. With the clam-lip fully open, it acts as a bull-dozer with hydraulic fingertip bladepitch control to regulate dozing depth and to discharge sticky material.

Spark Proofing Kit

Lamson Mobilift Corp. has announced a new electrical spark proofing kit for each of the full line of stand-up and sit-down models of industrial trucks. The new kit is for use on gasoline engines in industrial trucks that are operated in areas where semi-hazard-ous fumes or elements are present. It shields the electrical system to eliminate the possibility of any electrical sparks being exposed to inflammable fumes. The kit, which is factory installed, consists of a totally enclosed and shielded distributor, a shielded ignition coil, and sealed Romex cables which enclose all high voltage ignition wires.

Microfilm Camera

A new duplex microfilm camera that photographs both sides of a document simultaneously at any of three reduction ratios has been developed by Remington Rand. The Film-a-Record Model 11 has a 12-in. throat, and doubles 16-mm film capacity by filming up one side and down the other using the 8-mm principle. Readily interchangeable lenses are available for 25 to 1, 35 to 1, and 42 to 1 reduction ratios.

Paper Roll Clamp

A new paper roll clamp with high strength and rigidity, and high clamping force without high pressure, has been introduced by Baker-Raulang Co. The clamp is especially designed to facilitate loading and unloading boxcars and trucks. One arm is fixed solidly to the clamp body. The other is moved by two hydraulic cylinders to insure adequate clamping force with low pressure. The fixed arm is short. The movable arm pad extends beyond the center of the roll. This permits picking up horizontal rolls from the floor without having to chisel under the roll

Screw-on Belt Cleat

A molded neoprene screw-on cleat has been announced by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. that will convert any conveyor or elevator belt into a cleated-belt. It's such a simple operation that anyone can make the conversion with nothing more than a punch and a screw-driver. The neoprene cleats are attached to the belt by flat head machine screws and special countersunk washers secured to threaded metal inserts vulcanized in the base of the cleat. Inserts are imbedded in concave cups. When a screw is tightened against a washer, it pulls the belt into a cup, and both screw-head and washer sink below the surface of the belt, where they cannot contact the pulley.

Hydraulic-Drive Cargo Cooler

Introduction of a light-weight hydraulic-drive cargo cooler has been announced by Hunter Mfg. Co. The new mechanical refrigeration unit weighs only 360 lb. It has a cooling capacity of 14,200 Btu per hour at 20 deg F. evaporator and 90 deg F. ambient temperatures, capable of maintaining required temperatures under the most severe conditions. It is designed to meet protective refrigeration requirements in the medium temperature ranges—between 35 and 50 deg F.—in four-wheel truck bodies up to approximately 14 ft in length.

New Flat-Bed Trailer Designed for Southwest Operators

Southwest haulers of cattle, grain, citrus, lumber, cotton and pipe have helped design a completely new flatbed trailer that is gaining acceptance throughout the country. Trailmobile Inc. conducted a market and product survey among hundreds of Southwest operators. With the results of the survey, Trailmobile engineers designed the SW-50 Flat, a general purpose trailer of low weight, moderate cost, and rugged durability. The SW-50 is designed and constructed to carry a uniformly distributed floor load. This is accomplished not through modification of a present model or type of construction, but through a completely new design that utilizes outer main rails as load carrying members. The main rail is designed and proportioned to the load carried. Although the load may be distributed throughout the length of the main rail, the bending moment applied to the rail over the kingpin and over the suspension is reduced in depth to 8-in at points where bending is reduced. In other areas, the rail has a depth of 16-in.

Floor Hardeners

The use of four floor-hardening chemicals to give concrete floors low-cost resistance to traffic, abrasion, gouging, moisture penetration and chemical deterioration is the subject of a new folder. In it the A. C. Horn Co., Inc. describes qualities of Durafax, Ferro-fax, Ferem, and Hornolith and tells how they can be applied.

BOOKS

Value of Distribution

"Value Added by Distribution," a dollars-and-cents figure similar to "value added by manufacture," is discussed in a 42-page book prepared by The Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The figure is obtained by subtracting cost of goods sold, supplies, containers, and purchased energy from net sales or operating costs. It is that part of the final retail price attributed to the marketing stages of production.

A 17-page summary of the report is available from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Washington 6, D. C., at 20 cents per copy.

Study of Air Freight

The possibility that air freight can reduce overall costs of distribution is discussed in a study entitled The Role of Air Freight in Physical Distribution.

Published by the Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration, it is a report on basic research into the economic soundness of air freight.

Emery Air Freight Corp. and Harvard financed the second part of the study while Emery was joined by American Trans-World and United Airlines in financing the first part.

The 180-page book costs $2.50 and can be purchased by writing to the Department of Research, Graduate School of Business Administration, Harvard University, Boston, Mass.

Sales Promotion Game

A unique sales promotion package, an educational game, has been developed by Aero Mayflower Transit Co., Inc. Played by two to four players, the game is printed in full color on tagboard. It features a map of the United States and Canada with routes leading to all state and provincial capitals.

Lift Drivers' Booklet

"How to Operate A Lift Truck," an informative 24-page, two-color booklet, is offered by the Hyster Co. to lift truck supervisors, operators, and safety engineers. Using the cartoon technique, the booklet presents information on operation, preventive maintenance, safety, and basic materials handling. Drawings for setting up an obstacle course are also included.

DA Piggy-Back Routing Guide Issued

DISTRIBUTION AGE has published a completely revised edition of its "DA Piggy-Back Routing Guide." The revised Guide, which lists all points in the U.S. and Canada to and from which Piggy-Back is available, was necessitated by the phenomenal growth of TOFC in the sixteen months since the original Guide was published in September of 1955.

The new Guide consists of two principal parts — an Index to Points, and a Piggy-Back Routing Table. Through use of the Index and Table the traffic manager or shipper can determine, in a matter of seconds, whether or not Piggy-Back service is available between any two or more points in which he is interested.

The Index lists, geographically by alphabet, all points served by Piggy-Back, and railroads offering the service. The Table lists, by key number, each point as an originating city, showing to what other cities Piggy-Back is available from that point.

By way of comparison, the original Guide listed 157 major points and several hundred minor points offered Piggy-Back service by 32 railroads—the new Guide lists approximately 2,000 points served by 50 railroads.

Single copies of the eight-page Guide are available at 25 cents each by writing DISTRIBUTION AGE, Chestnut & 56th Sts., Philadelphia 39, Pa. Prices on quantity lots on request.

HHG Pooling Plan Expedites Moves

A household goods pooling plan, formed to overcome operating problems, permits competitive principals and agents to pool traffic, service and all earnings

THE volume of traffic placed with household goods carriers by business firms has increased considerably in recent years. Growth has been so great that many carriers have established national account departments or sections for the express purpose of soliciting and facilitating such traffic.

Much of this traffic involves the movement of a transferred employe's household effects. It is not uncommon, however, for a household goods carrier to move an entire business from one location to another. In both cases, transportation arrangements are handled at one location, under centralized authority. The employer pays the cost of employe moves.

Pooling is one of the devices used by carriers to expedite industry moves.

The diffused nature of the movement of household goods carriers, and the lack of regularity in their operations between fixed points, create many operational problems. One serious problem is the difficulty of securing return traffic.

In addition, carriers are faced with periods of peak and slow traffic. At such times, available equipment and personnel are insufficient to meet immediate demands, or are idle due to lack of sufficient business.

Small shipments create a problem because a carrier does not have facilities to secure return By Charles A. Taff loads. Outbound traffic must constitute volumes large enough to defray expenses of empty return trips.

The nature of their operations has led to a multiplicity of agency arrangements among household goods carriers. The appointment of agents to represent the principal (carrier) locally is covered in an agency agreement.

Duties of agents may include:

- 1. Representing the principal in selling its service;
  - 2. Soliciting traffic;
- 3. Assisting in adjustment of damage claims and other details.

These agents may be booking agents, hauling agents, and/or warehouse agents. However, such agency agreements do not cover the pooling of traffic, service, and earnings, as is true of a pooling plan.

Pooling Defined

Division 3 of the ICC in a motor passenger pooling case used the definition of the word "pool" as quoted from the Century Dictionary by the court:

"A combination of the interests of several otherwise competing parties, such as rival transportation lines, in which all take common ground as regards the public and distribute the profits of the business among themselves equally or according to special agreement. In this sense, pooling is a system of reconciling conflicting interests and of obviating ruinous competition by which the several competing parties or companies throw their revenue into one common fund, which then is divided or distributed among the members of the pool on a basis of percentage of proportions previously agreed upon or determined by arbitration.'

History of Pooling

Railroads had used pooling agreements prior to the passage of the Act to Regulate Commerce in 1887. That act prohibited pooling because it was felt that such agreements restrained competition.

The antipooling provision contained in the original Act was modified with the passage of the Transportation Act of 1920. This provided that pooling agreements could be carried out under the authorization of the Commission provided such agreements:

- 1. Would be in the interest of better service to the public;
- 2. Would result in economy of operations;
- 3. Would not unduly restrain competition.

The Transportation Act of 1940 made it unlawful for any common carrier subject to Part II of the Interstate Commerce Act to enter into any pooling agreement without Commission approval.

Section 5(1) of the Act provides that, upon application, and to the extent indicated by the Commission and subject to such terms and conditions as it finds to be just and reasonable, the Commission may approve a pooling or division of traffic, service, or gross or net earnings, or of any portion thereof.

It must be established to the Commission's satisfaction that the arrangement will be in the interest of better service to the public, or will result in economy of operations, and will not unduly restrain competition. The arrangement also must be assented to by the carriers.

Two of these pooling plans have been approved by the ICC for household goods carriers. Another is being considered. Pooling plans have not been approved for any other type of motor carrier of property, although there are several in the passenger field.

The Pooling Plan

In the pooling plans of household goods carriers, the agents must be carriers in order to participate in the pooling agreement. However, there can be noncarrier booking and hauling agents not covered by the pooling plan.

The pooling plans in operation possess some similarity but are not identical. A typical plan stipulates the conditions under which the booking and surrender of shipments to the principal are handled.

There are four types of situations which are covered:

1. If the shipper requests service by the principal, the traffic is booked with the principal regardless of whether the movement could be made under the agent's operating authority:

2. If the shipment is within the agent's scope of authority, but it finds it more economical to have the principal make the movement it may book the traffic to the latter;

3. If the agent books traffic for transportation by itself, but later finds the movement can be made more rapidly and economically by the principal, it may surrender such traffic at its discretion;

4. All shipments booked by the agent calling for service outside its operating authority are surrendered to the principal.

Traffic which is booked by the principal directly is handled in the same manner as traffic booked for it by an agent—provided the agent's equipment and facilities are used.

Whenever the principal elects to transport household goods booked by it under its own authority and in its own fleet of equipment, the earnings derived therefrom become part of the general funds of the principal. The funds are distributed to carrier agents who are stockholders. Dividends paid to stockholder agents are based upon the number of shares each owns. A pooling of net earnings results.

Each agreement specifies the compensation to agents for booking under the agency arrangement. The agents are compensated for

Transportation Holds Challenge for Youth

Adventure still with us, prize-winning essay of Associated Traffic Clubs of America says

By Miss H. Faye Sylvester

Women's Traffic and Transportation Club, Portland, Ore.

THE WORD transportation is almost synonymous with progress in the development of this country. This has given rise to trends in transportation to meet the needs of a rapidly expanding civilization.

Progress has never been made without obstacles. Thus has it been in transportation.

Would anyone wish to enter a field which did not present a challenge? No.

The glamorous and adventurous era in transportation still is with us.

When a youth desires a career in transportation, but hesitates because of a carrier "battle of survival," it should be pointed out that all business is highly competitive.

The following shows how a carrier may meet competition by increased efficiency and economy: In 1955 a new record was established in ton miles per freight train hour, while active passenger locomotives showed a new high in average miles per day. This has been accomplished principally by the dieselization program.

The traffic manager must furnish other departments with traffic and transportation information and make them aware of the need for it. A traffic department must be interested in transportation costs, whether paid by the company or its customers. That involves being actively concerned with what effect the traffic department policies are having upon the sales and purchasing departments.

The purchasing department is to be supplied with rate quotations, routes, and routings. Also, consolidating or pooling less-than-carload and truck load shipments must be developed.

Approved courses in industrial traffic management are available in some 94 colleges and universities in the U.S.

In addition, a few colleges and universities have held transportation institutes of two or three-weeks duration.

Among the colleges and universities which have conducted these institutes are the American University, Washington, D. C., and the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis.

Two publications are of interest to those seeking correspondence study: Guide to Correspondence Study, National University Extension Association, Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind., and Correspondence or Directed Home Study, Office of Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington 25, D. 16 gal	Tight Head Universal.	20	267/8	11/16	7/16	147/8*	17.5 lb

STEEL BARRELS

Compared with the number of steel drums (see below) there are relatively few steel bilge barrels. We shall not, therefore describe these in detail, except to say that their chimes are not as distinctive as those of wooden barrels. This feature should be checked when it is planned to use hooks and grabs.

ALUMINUM BARRELS

On the other hand, aluminum beer barrels are extensively used in the brewery industry. The sketch in Fig. 3 shows the profile of a patented Alcoa beer barrel. The following data for this barrel, with a so-called Golden Tap, can be taken as typical:

	Quarter Size (7.75 gal)	Half Size (15.5 gal)	Full Size (31 gal)
Approximate weight (lb.)	11.6	21.8	42.0
Shell Thick- ness (in.)	0.125	0.156	0.188
Overall height (	in.) 16.020	19.300	24.720
Overall diameter	145/16	181/a	22 13/16

The bilge of aluminum beer barrels differ from wooden barrels in that instead of having practically a point contact, the two projecting parts provide greater stability. The chime is so fashioned that hooks and grabs are not advisable as handling mediums.

STEEL DRUMS

A drum is defined as a single-walled, cylindrical container made of metal, plywood or fiberboard, with inserted or attached heads. Metal drums have two protruding rolling hoops. Those made of other materials have smooth sides.

Whether a metal drum be made of steel or stainless steel is not our particular concern. What we are interested in are the characteristics of drums. These may be of 110-gal capacity, but the Steel Shipping Container Institute has recommended standard specifications for several kinds of steel drums and two kinds of steel pails. We show the profile of a typical steel drum in Fig. 4. Listed in Table I are dimensions of five types.

ALUMINUM DRUMS

Alcoa offers several types of aluminum drums of which the two shown in Fig. 5 are examples. Another type, not shown, has the bung located on the bilge between the two rolling hoops. The weight of the drum at the left in the sketch varies from 79% to 68% lb, according to the thickness of the shell. The one at right weighs but 33 lb.

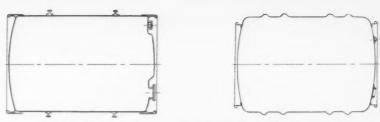

FIG. 5—TWO ALCOA ALUMINUM SHIPPING DRUMS

HANDLING CHARACTERISTICS OF METAL DRUMS

Although metal drums are rigid and sturdily constructed they are subject to denting, especially when made of light gage metal. They must, therefore, be handled with reasonable care.

From the standpoint of handling, the outstanding feature of drums is the presence of hoops. These change the character of the surface and provide good rolling. They also make the container more stable than a bulging bilge barrel.

SHIPPING PAILS

Shipping pails are small-sized drums. The Steel Shipping Container Institute recommends two—one a 5-gal tight head, the other a 5-gal or 35-lb lug-cover universal pail. The latter has a wire bail (handle) with or without a wooden grip. Both have approximately the same dimensions—12 in. dia, 13 12/in. high. Both have chimes. They weigh about 5 lb. The tight head type has straight sides, but the lug cover variety has a bead near the top as shown in Fig. 7.

Because of their relatively small dimensions, these containers are handled in much the same way as kegs. Like kegs they have chimes, but their sides are not bulging. In the following text, the methods described for kegs can also be applied to pails. They never are handled on wheel conveyors, but on rollers or belts. They frequently are unitized and handled on skids or pallets.

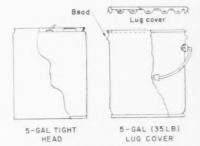

FIG. 7—TWO 5-GAL PAILS

FIBER DRUMS AND THEIR HANDLING CHARACTERISTICS

Contrasted with wooden barrels and steel drums, fiber drums have straight, cylindrical sides as shown in Fig. 6. They come in a wide range of sizes. One manufacturer produces them in from 1- to 60-gal capacities. Some are made of all fiber, others have fiber sidewalls, and wooden or metal headings.

When a metal retaining ring is used in the construction, a false bottom is created, which means that such containers cannot be moved on wheels. Another handling characteristic is that, although fiber drums are strong, they can be crushed. Manufacturers advise their being moved through the air by slings rather than hooks which may damage the tops and bottoms.

. . Airfreight Field

If there is any field of transportation where management needs maximum flexibility for decision in order to hasten its full development, it is airfreight. Once before the Board substituted rate-making by government sanction for the traditional method under which it was considered the right and responsibility of private management, sensitive to the regulatory forces of competition.

In effect, the Board has been asked to decide for all air carriers that virtually all rates on all long-haul volume segments of their routes be increased by three percent. Thousands of individual rates would be affected.

In 1948, the Board flatly rejected any suggestion that it prescribe actual rates. It recognized that such regulatory action "might well be so restrictive as to be extremely unwise." Likewise the Board refused to prescribe what rate reductions, if any, there should be as distance or weight of shipment increased. Rather, it endeavored to set the minimum rates low enough "so as to leave with the carrier sufficient freedom, as well as the responsibility, to work out and adjust their rate structures above the rate floor to permit the sound development and promotion of the airfreight service."

As a result of the increase in minima becoming effective in 1953, however, the rate floor was raised 25 per cent. It became not the mini-

Diesel Servicing Shop

Union Pacific Railroad has placed in operation a new $2-million diesel shop at its Council Bluffs Yard. The building will house 21 diesels for servicing and running repairs. Shop employes work on three levels carrying out all phases of the servicing at one time mum which the Board intended but, in effect, an actual prescription of the rate level. In most major long-haul markets today, freight rates are frozen. They no longer are subject to the ordinary decisions of management. At all weight breaks from 100 lbs. to 10,000 lbs., for nearly all commodities, rates neither can be raised nor lowered.

They cannot be raised without loss of traffic and operating revenue. They cannot be lowered because of the existing minimum rate order.

The rule that minimum rates tend to become actual rates has again proved itself. Floor and ceiling have met, leaving little or no room for management discretion.

The Board is, therefore, asked to fix not minimums but the actual rates which a large portion of the shipping public will have to pay. This would be governmental rate making at its worst.

It would overlook the fact that the all-cargo carriers have been awarded permanent certificates, not because their services were essential to the shipping public, but because it was thought they would provide valuable competitive benefits. The question might then well be asked, "If the cargo-only carriers were certificated for the sake of competition, why shouldn't competition be allowed to work?"

... Tractor Trailer Trains

Heavy-duty caster-steer trailers weigh about 1200 lb and extraheavy-duty caster-steer trailers about 1500 lb. Fifth-wheel-steer trailers with two racks weigh approximately 600 lb while heavier duty fifth-wheel trailers run from 900 to 3000 lb. For average factory use, consider trailer weight as averaging 600 lb.

3. Knowing the weight of the unit load to be transported and the number of trailers needed to carry the load, you now can calculate the approximate drawbar-pull requirement of the tractor.

4. Tractors vary in drawbar pull. In DA Industrial Truck Specifications—1956-57 (May, Page 92), 91 models were listed ranging in drawbar pull from 100 to 16,000 lb. Most models have pull of about 3000 lb. Equipment can be powered by battery or internal combustion engine.

5. The cost of a gasoline tractor is approximately $2,500. Average trailer cost is $100. Now you can calculate the equipment cost. In so doing, remember to provide about three times as many trailers as will be in transport at one time. The extra trailers will provide loading and unloading time while separated from the tractor.

6. Amortization of equipment varies with plant accounting procedures. A safe practice is to amortize at 10 years. This estimate is conservative, as much of the equipment will last longer.

7. To estimate maintenance of tractor-trailer equipment, a crude rule of thumb is allow five per cent of the original cost each year. Maintenance of electric tractors is less than that of gasoline tractors. In figuring cost, include cost of power and charging equipment for electric tractors. Gasoline and oil for gasoline tractors also should be included.

Suppose, for a sample problem, that 10 tons of palletized goods loaded 2,000 lb per pallet are to be transported 1000 ft each trip between the end of a packaging line and the warehouse. Needed are five trailers, 10 pallets, and a tractor.

Total weight will be 20,000 lb for the load and 3,000 lb for the trailers. This is  $11\frac{1}{2}$  tons.

A drawbar pull of 460 lb, assuming 40 lb pull to the ton, will be needed if floor conditions are ideal. When this figure is doubled to 920-lb drawbar pull to allow for practical floor conditions and light grades, the Drawbar Pull Vs. Speed Curve (see accompanying chart) shows that a unit such as a standard Mercury Banty will tractor the load at about 6 mph.

At this speed, the 1000-ft haul will take about two minutes. Loading, unloading, return trips, and traffic conditions will add considerably to this figure. A conservative number of trips will be six per hour.

Investment costs are $2500 for the tractor and $1500 for the 15 trailers. Total investment is $4,000. Amortized on a straight-line basis for 10 years, the trailers will depreciate $400 per year. With maintenance estimated at $175 per year and gas and oil at $30 per month, annual cost of operation is estimated at $935.

Six hauls per hour, eight hours per day, and 260 days per year will mean a total of 12,480 hauls per year. Cost of each haul comes to 7.5 cents. Cost of ton per haul will then be three-quarters of one cent and cost per ton mile 3.9 cents. If conditions permit a greater number of hauls per hour, say eight, cost per ton mile will drop to 2.9 cents.

This calculation, of course, neglects the greatest single cost of doing business—labor. One tractor operator would be needed to make the 48 trips a day. Two operators might be required if the hauling is done during two shifts.

Minimum handling cost is assured if the fork truck is kept busy at its job of loading, unloading, and stacking, and the tractortrailer train at its job of transporting material.

Warehousing Riddle .

the industrial revolution in medieval Europe.

A list of major companies using public warehousing is an impressive one. And, while it is replete with blue chip firms, it contains a great many small companies as well.

Public Advantages

A comparison of the costs of public warehousing against buying or leasing is a must for any company in the first stage of the warehousing pattern. In a recent article, Albert N. Drake, president of Lehigh Warehouse & Transportation Co., Newark, N. J., listed the following public warehouse advantages:

a. By cost comparison, public warehousing often is cheaper.

b. The scope of the industry now is large enough to provide national coverage. Public warehouses also provide a wide variety of services which go far beyond simple storage. There are 309,152,000 sq ft of dry space, 349,708,000 cu ft of refrigerated space, and 276,647,000 gal of bulk liquid space available in this country's public warehousing system. These figures, published by the Bureau of Census, include general merchandise, refrigerated, household goods, and special warehouses.

c. Shipping and other traffic costs can be reduced through elimination of lcl and ltl expenses.

d. Warehousing can be flexible. Warehouse stocks can be kept near a market as the market shifts. As an example, it is possible to warehouse in Cleveland one year and Pittsburgh the next simply by switching the account from one public warehouse to another. (Many public warehouses and public warehouse sales organizations maintain or represent strings of warehouses in major cities. This sometimes eliminates the need to shift accounts when shifting stocks.)

e. You pay only for space and labor used.

f. Factory congestion can be relieved during temporary periods of heavy production for stock without leasing space, which would be idle during periods of heavy customer delivery.

g. Responsibility for warehouse management can be taken out of the hands of branch sales office managers and turned over to a specialist. This has a two-part benefit. It increases warehouse efficiency and sales force efficiency.

h. Production can be turned into cash by making short term loans on warehouse receipts.

i. Public warehousing facilitates leveling of production without the expense of buying or leasing space which would be idle through part of the year. This off-season production produces savings through holding onto experienced help, reducing unemployment tax in those states where merit rating systems are used, and keeping the plant working at even capacity. This is particularly important if capital investment is a problem. •

Million on Racks

Two single lines of storage racks, separated by one aisle, hold almost $1 million of material in Tampa Electric Co's. new operations center. The warehouse encloses three acres and has 17 paved areas outside. High line equipment accounts for most of the stock. Racks, mostly general pallet type, were designed by Artco Corp.

Reciprocal Switching

by the nature of the service itself.55

Public and Private Tracks

Tracks owned by the railroad and assigned for the use of the general public in loading and unloading carload freight are public team tracks. Tracks owned by the industry it serves, or owned by a railroad and assigned for the use of a particular industry are private tracks.

Ordinarily a carrier reserves the use of its public team track facilities for the loading and unloading of cars for which it performs the line-haul service. A public team track is a facility of the railroad maintained at the sole expense of the carrier for the use of its line-haul patrons only. Railroads usually will not accept cars for delivery on team tracks which have had their line-haul into the terminal by another railroad. Also, in terminals where connecting line switching charges are absorbed, railroads will not absorb charges on traffic to or from a connecting line's team tracks.

The Commission recognized early the right of a railroad not to switch cars from connecting lines to its own team tracks. Teamtrack delivery was construed as analogous to freight depot service. It is considered, therefore, a terminal facility which can not be used by another line without the owning line's consent. This was provided in Section 3 prior to 1920.<sup>56</sup>

Rights of Refusal

This provision was eliminated from the Act in 1920 and the Commission authority to require joint use of terminals was more clearly defined. However, the Commission since that time still has recognized the reasonableness of the practice of a carrier to refuse the use of its team tracks to connecting lines.

In the absence of any resulting preference or discrimination, a carrier is under no duty to switch cars from or to connecting linehaul carriers to or from points on its team tracks or other tracks in a terminal area on its right of way which are owned and maintained by it as a part of its terminal facilities.<sup>57</sup>

Where a rail siding originally was constructed for exclusive use of the shipper, and has been so used for a considerable length of time, proposed designation of such track as "house, team or dray tracks" and denying the right to continue to have shipper's traffic switched to or from connecting carriers is not justified.<sup>58</sup>

Where a carrier's tariff specifies that its team tracks are for the exclusive use of its own traffic, and where a shipper has no private or assigned siding, it is necessary that traffic be routed to afford the carrier the line-haul to secure the desired delivery.<sup>59</sup>

Rights of complaining industries seeking to require carriers to establish reciprocal switching arrangements between their industries and connecting lines turn in part upon whether the track upon which the industry is located is a private industry track or a public team track. If it is a team track, complaint cannot prevail. 60

An lcl freight station opened to a shipper as affording the only practicable point of delivery affords no basis for listing of a shipper as one entitled to reciprocal switching.<sup>61</sup>

In certain instances carriers voluntarily established reciprocal switching to and from team tracks and later sought to cancel or restrict such switching. The Commission ordered continuance of such arrangements.

HHG Pooling Plan . . .

booking on the basis of a percentage of the gross transportation revenue.

One agreement pays a flat 25 per cent. The other provides 15 per cent on shipments weighing less than 1,000 lb, and 20 per cent on shipments weighing more than 1,000 lb and those booked for transportation under Section 22.

The pooling case now being considered grants from 10 to 28 per cent. The amount depends upon origin and destination points.

There are three bases used or proposed—one based on a stated amount, one on weight, and one on geographical location.

Another part of the pooling agreement is that under which hauling agents are compensated for the equipment they furnish. The plans provide that the compensation will be a percentage of gross revenue. This varies both in different agreements and within agreements depending upon conditions.

One agreement provides a payment of 50 to 60 per cent and 65 to 75 per cent, adjusted to the weight of the shipment. The other provides 76.5 per cent of gross transportation revenue which is secured on all shipments transported at published tariff rates on shipments of 1,000 lb or less, and 71.5 per cent of gross transportation revenue in the case of shipments of more than 1,000 lb and those transported under Section 22.

In the proposed pooling agreement, the compensation to the agents would be not less than 65 per cent and not more than 78 per cent. It would depend upon the geographical points of origin and destination of each shipment and the individual lease agreements. Compensation in this instance would not be less than 21 cents per mile.

Vehicles are operated solely and exclusively for the principal under the pooling agreements except when transportation is performed in the agent's name as permitted in the agreements. Agents furnish drivers, bear the expense of all operating state licenses, and pay all direct expenses. These expenses include gasoline, oil, and tires incident to the operation of the equipment.

Each plan provides for agents to be compensated for the performance of accessorial services on shipments which are transported under the principal's name in the agent's vehicles. The agents retain 80 per cent for packing, 20 per cent for unpacking, and 100 per cent on all other services.

Being interviewed is W. W. Smith, Divisional Manager, Product Engineering. Grids in back are of Exide's exclusive Silvium. Those in front are ordinary alloys.

"All of these alloys had the same acid test"

At the Exide Laboratories-Reporter: Was it a typical charge-discharge test normally used to test battery components?

Smith: Right. And the two positive plate grids with no visible signs of corrosion are Exide's patented Silvium alloy.

Reporter: How about the others-what alloys are they?

Smith: They're standard alloys used in other well-known makes of batteries. But they don't have Silvium's corrosion-resisting ingredients.

Reporter: Where is Silvium used?

Smith: In the positive plates of all Exide-Ironclad and many other Exide Batteries.

Reporter: How does it affect battery performance?

Smith: Every test we've made proves it stretches battery life because the grid resists corrosion-sometimes up to 100% longer.

Reporter: Obviously this is an important feature of the Exide-Ironclad.

Smith: Yes it is, but it's just one of many engineering details that contribute to its high capacity and long life.

Note to battery users: Whenever you order heavy duty batteries or the equipment that requires them, be sure to specify Exide-Ironelad. For detailed bulletin, write Exide Industrial Division, The Electric Storage Battery Co., Philadelphia 2, Pa.

NEW

Adjustable SPAN-LOCKS* — an exclusive feature of Magcoa Magnesium Dockboards

- Now you can eliminate all board slippage
- Lock your Dockboard in any desired position
- Use a single Dockboard to do double duty

* Patent Pending

Now Magcoa has eliminated all board slippage... by developing the revolutionary new Span-Locks. Span-Locks eliminate the need for adjustment pins ... increase efficiency and prolong the life of your board.

Span-Locks permit you to lock your Dockboard in any desired position... even when angle-parking is necessary at your truck dock or when you have a curved-track rail siding. Whether your dock-to-carrier span varies from 3 inches to 63 inches (or more), Span-Locks adjust to your exact needs; to hold the board exactly where you want it.

Now Span-Locks permit you to use a single Dockboard for both truck loading and rail loading . . . with complete safety and efficiency.

You may even be able to use Span-Locks on your present Dockboard.

Fifteen months of testing on busy customer loading docks have proved that Span-Locks are versatile and rugged.

A new folder shows where and how the new Span-Locks can increase your

WISCONSIN HEAVY-Air-Cooled ENGINES

CARRY THE LOAD ON MATERIAL HANDLING EQUIPMENT

For many years Wisconsin Air-Cooled Engines have been specified as "original power equipment" by leading manufacturers of lift trucks, platform trucks, and various types of prime movers that are extensively used in modern materials handling.

Wisconsin Heavy-Duty Air-Cooled Engines are ideally suited to this type of service because of their extremely compact design, relatively light weight, trouble-free AIR-COOLING, heavy-duty design and construction, low-cost maintenance, economical operation . . . and the ready availability of parts and service in 82 countries throughout the world, in addition to over 2000 Authorized Service Stations in the United States and Canada.

Wherever you put power to work, within a 3 to 36 horsepower range, there is a Wisconsin Engine of the right size to fit both the machine and the job it is to perform. This results in maximum power advantage to the user as well as purchase economy, as it is not necessary to buy an engine of greater power than needed to meet the service requirements.

All models can be equipped with electric starter and generator, or starter only.

The equipment manufacturer, the distributor and the user all benefit when Wisconsin Air-Cooled Engines are specified. Your inquiries are invited,

Automatic DOCKER

THE LIFT TRUCK THAT WORKS WHERE OTHERS CAN'T

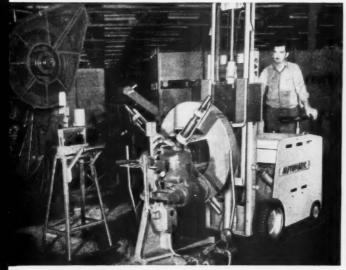

Shortest in its class...unmatched for easy maneuvering ...and for efficient low-cost operation

Illustrated are only a few examples of the DOCKER'S versatility. This extra-compact, more maneuverable truck offers more advantages than any other of its type for materials handling in any industry. It is especially desirable where space is limited ... works with ease inside trailers, freight cars and in aisles too narrow for other similar trucks.

What's more, direct comparison shows clearly how definitely superior the DOCKER really is. Here are the figures:

2,000 lb. Yale Electric Truck gives cartons a fast, smooth lift

EFFICIENT YALE ELECTRIC TRUCK STACKS BOXES HIGH FOR FULL USE OF AIR-RIGHTS

This stacking operation is smooth and efficient because the Yale Electric Truck provides the operator with all the power he needs to do the job fast, with plenty of visibility for accurate load spotting and with a high lift for maximum use of air-rights. In addition, Yale's special clamp attachment eliminates the need for pallets...greatly reduces "lost storage space". Moreover, the space saved on pallet storage can now be used for other purposes.

Yale Electric Trucks will boost the efficiency and safety factor in your handling operation because you get dependable, high-rated performance year after year...truck- and load-stability under all load conditions...shock-resistant steering for extra handling ease in crammed quarters...and many other advantages only Yale Electric Trucks offer. Cap. from 1,000 to 150,000 lbs. For full facts write The Yale & Towne Mfg. Co., Philadelphia 15, Pa., Dept. 22A.

"It's going to be hard to get my drivers to use any other machine after this demonstration", said a dock superintendent. "I've never seen a fork truck that offered better performance—half as many outstanding features as this Clarklift."

HERE'S WHAT PHILADELPHIA THINKS OF THE NEW CLARKLIFT

It's a new Philadelphia. The "Chinese Wall" has disappeared to make way for the new Penn Center. New vigor is felt at the port area as it chalks up a national first place for import tonnage. All of Philadelphia's industry is looking for new ways and methods... new cost-saving equipment.

Management, drivers, maintenance men... any of the men who use or depend on the Clarklift, report that it is the pace-setter of moving materials. Some like the easy steering, the power, the ease of maintenance. Others like the performance, employee acceptance, the speed up in production.

An old plant manager who has worked in his business for 33 years captured the general feeling when he said, "Fork trucks aren't news to me; I've seen too many of 'em. But I've got to confess that this truck got me interested the first time I saw it demonstrated. Now that we've got three, and I've got working experience with them, I'll admit the Clarklift is news."

Many of Philadelphia's progressive companies use the Clarklift... know its many values. How about your company? For details call your local Clark dealer or write us direct. On request, we'll arrange a demonstration in your plant.

"We've got over  $2\frac{1}{2}$  million sq. ft. under cover—have warehoused everything from hairpins to a steel mill. We've personally tested all makes of fork trucks, and have found that the Clarklift will do half-again as much work as any truck tested." That's the report of A. J. Laupheimer, Jr., General Manager, General Public Warehouse Company—Philadelphia's largest.

"Routine maintenance of our Clarklifts is handled on the spot instead of sending them to the shop. The reason? Everything's easy to get at on this Clarklift...it makes preventive maintenance a snap."

"Our plant is brand new-our handling operation the very latest in design," said this plant manager. "We needed lift trucks that would fit into this ultra-modern operation, it's why we chose Clarklifts."

"We needed a truck that could work in a tight area, yet handle big loads", said a furniture company yard foreman. "We tested a lot of machines...the Clarklift out-maneuvered, out-performed every one of them."

"Our men like this truck for a lot of reasons", said a superintendent. "But, because we handle such heavy, awkward loads they especially like this truck's stability. We've seen nothing to compare to it."

Bolt together ideas!... Build to your specifications with Dexion Slotted Angle

DEXION Slotted Angle, the Idea material, is merely cut and bolted together to fill whatever ideas you may have for uses of framing material. Its utility is as broad as your imagination, and it requires no special skills for assembly. The only tools needed are a wrench and a DEXION cutter to build whatever ruggedly strong, economical and useful equipment you desire for your plant, warehouse or store.

Merely measure DEXION by counting cutting marks spaced every three inches. Then cut with an easy stroke of a clean-shearing DEXION Cutter. Carefully engineered DEXION slot and hole pattern matches up to make assembly easy, true and strong. And you simply bolt the pieces together to assemble whatever structure your good ideas have led you to erect.

You can obtain DEXION Slotted Angle in easy-to-handle packages of ten galvanized, cold rolled steel pieces in 10 or 12 foot lengths. And nuts and bolts are included. DEXION has two sizes:  $3" \times 1\frac{1}{2}" \times .104"$  and  $2\frac{1}{4}" \times 1\frac{1}{2}" \times .080"$ .

There are strong DEXION Panels available for shelving, table tops, or any decking you may want to apply to your DEXION framed structure. Special DEXION Casters will add mobility, if you desire.

FREE Acme Steel Dexion Idea Book—It contains scores of Dexion ideas-in-use. See what others have created in practical, low-cost equipment. To start your ideas rolling, get your copy now. Write to Dept. DBD-27, Dexion Division, Acme Steel Company, Chicago 27, Illinois. We'll send the book plus the name of your nearest Dexion office or distributor.

Better Engineered for Unequaled Production

Shortest Turning Radius

The model HA can work where others can't because it has a shorter turning radius than any comparable tractor-shovel - can go through narrow doorways and between spaces less than 41/2 feet wide. With a turning radius of only 6 feet 31/2 inches it easily turns corners of 6 foot aisles.

Higher Dumping Height

This "PAYLOADER" can deliver its loads over bin or hopper edges up to 61/2 feet high. The bucket in maximum dump position can clear heights of 5 feet 21/2 inches with a forward reach of more than 2 feet beyond front of machine. Loads can be dumped as fast or slow as desired, and at any height.

Biggest Capacity (18 cu. ft. payload)

With a bucket capacity of 18 cu. ft. payload and 14 cu. ft. struck the model HA has a carrying capacity up to 25% greater than all comparative machines and even more than some bigger, heavier machines. Better engineering including the exclusive 40° bucket tip-back action are the reasons the model HA handles more tons per load and more loads per hour.

Easiest Operating

The entire hydraulic control of the model HA bucket - tip-back, raise, dump, lower — is handled by a single conveniently located lever. It's the simplest, easiest bucket control available. Smooth hydraulic brakes, full anti-friction steering mechanism and torque-converter drive makes the model HA easy to operate at high output rates the full shift.

Greater productivity on sand handling work is only half the story of the Model HA "PAYLOADER". Its versatility is also valuable to many owners, because quickly-attached floor sweeper, fork-lift, and pusher fork attachments, plus special buckets are available to do many other jobs. You get more value in any "PAYLOADER" model because more "PAYLOADER" units are in service than all other wheeled tractor shovels combined, and there's a "PAYLOADER" Distributor ready to serve you right.

It's a tough piece of equipmentthe Pusharound® Hand Truck

The platform truck (left) and the bin truck (right) are two more light and tough Pusharound products that can help you move heavy objects—easily.

Whatever your need for handling equipment may be—consider the uses you have for any or all light, rugged Pusharound products. In addition to warehouse, terminal and retail uses, the platform and bin trucks pictured above are ideal for handling heavy parts and industrial equipment. The Pusharound bin truck is designed to handle 500 lb. loads, while the platform truck is available in two model variations to handle either 500 or 1200 lb. load capacities.

Because the nose plate is the part on every hand truck that takes most of the load—the nose plate on the Pusharound hand truck is forged, not cast. It is not brittle and will not break, even under the most punishing conditions.

And there are no "makeshift" parts on the Push around hand truck. Side rails, yokes, axle brackets—all are special Brooks & Perkins' extrusions designed exclusively for Pusharound hand trucks. Protective wheel guards prevent damage to boxes, cartons, bags—anything you handle. Every model is adaptable to 6", 8" or 10" wheels.

It's a tough piece of equipment—the Pusharound hand truck. Write for a Pusharound catalog and for the name of our dealer in your area.

The lightweight, rugged Yale Zephyr is a push or pull hand lift truck-specifically built to speed handling of lighter loads which cannot be moved efficiently by hand. Its compact design allows the Yale Zephyr to work in narrow aisles and crammed quarters with amazing speed and ease. A single-action treadle controls lifting and holds the load. Depressing the treadle will not lower the load until the operator pulls the handle into position for balancing the weight of the load-an extra safety feature. Steering is easy with a rubber-tired caster front wheel that rotates on roller bearings with a double race bearing swivel.

Used alone or as an integral part of your materials handling system, Yale Zephyrs speed short-distance hauling, save time wherever materials in quantity must be moved and cut operator effort in handling heavy and awkward loads. For complete information on the Yale Zephyr or other Hand Trucks in capacities from 1,000 to 12,000 lbs., write The Yale & Towne Manufacturing Co., Philadelphia 15, Pa., Dept. 22.

the Toughest little
"Walkie"
in the Business

A full line of dependable pallet trucks— Small and Compact for Top Performance... Built tough to stay on the job... simply designed for fast, low cost maintenance.

Standard Model PAL, 4,000 and 6,000 lbs. capacity. Length is 28" plus load. Short coupled models only 24" plus load.

Rugged construction and simple design typical of MOTO-TRUC machines is shown in this underview. The lifting frame and battery compartment are all one sturdy welded unit that will handle heavier loads without failures. Since the weight of the battery lowers the forks, troublesome pull-rods and vulnerable pull springs are eliminated. The underside is free and clear.

It's amazing to see how much material one of these tough MOTO-TRUC pallet trucks can move in a single day. Small though they are, they form a vital time and money saving link in any handling system.

Because they are so useful,
MOTO-TRUC puts prime emphasis on dependability. And, you'll agree there is no surer way to keep trucks on the job than to build them simple and rugged . . . free of gadgets, trick mechanisms and fussy adjustments.
One look at a MOTO-TRUC pallet truck will convince you that their rugged simplicity will keep them on the job longer at lower cost!

WAREHOUSING

Can a city, county, or state tax stored goods owned by a member of the armed forces?

Recently the writer talked with several warehousemen while traveling through Southern States. A question arose as to whether or not a state, county, or city can tax goods owned by a person in military service. Late higher court decisions involving this subject indicate that the answer is: Generally no, if the goods are situated in a state not the permanent residence of the owner.

Obviously immunity to taxation can arise only under United States, state, county or city laws. Many legal experts have contended that the validity of laws of this nature will not be upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States. Nevertheless, recently the Supreme Court upheld the validity of a United States Statute which makes persons in military service immune to state taxation.

For example, in D—v. B—, 73 S. Ct. 721, a United States statute was litigated which provides that, for the purpose of taxation no person shall be deemed to have lost his regular residence or domicile by reason of being absent in military service. This statute further provides that the personal property of such person shall not be "deemed to be located or present in" the state in which he performs military service.

D- was in the Air Force. He was assigned to duty at Lowry Field, near Denver. While in Colorado, taxing officials of this state assessed a tax on his personal property, which at that time was in the state. D- paid the tax under protest, and sued to recover. He proved that for many years he was, and at the present time is, a citizen and a resident of the state of Louisiana. He contended that in view of the above mentioned United States statute the state of Colorado could not tax any of his personal property, irrespective of its nature, or location.

The Supreme Court of the United States directed the State of Colorado to return to D—— the money he paid for taxation of his personal property and chattels situated in Colorado. The Court said:

"The constitutionality of federal legislation exempting servicemen from the substantial burdens of seriate taxation by the states in which they may be required to be present by virtue of their service, cannot be doubted."

The Court also explained that the law is applicable to all merchandise, whether or not he uses the property merely for personal purposes, or for business purposes.

For further discussion of this law see C—v. R—A—Co., 342 U.S. 232 and D—Contracting Co., 302 U.S. 134. In these cases the Supreme Court held that persons who are employed to perform work or make contracts to carry on functions of the Federal Government are immune from being taxed by a state in which they are not residents or voters.

Airlift Truck

A British truck whose body can be raised as a platform 10 ft into the air is used for carrying baggage and other freight from plane to flight buildings. At the touch of a lever inside the cab, scissor-type power-operated cross arms lift the body to the correct height, and a drawbridge swings down over the roof, flush with the plane's door. The truck has been bought by Pan American World Airways, for use at London Airport

Is it possible to collect overdue charges from members of the military services?

A warehouseman has asked "What should warehousemen know about the law pertaining to collection from persons in the military service of overdue storage charges for stored goods?"

In order to properly start legal procedure to collect overdue charges from military personnel, the warehouseman must file a suit against the debtor. If the serviceman is financially able to pay his debt, the court may order immediate payment. (See Section 531.) The laws are not to protect servicemen who can, and are able to pay. On the other hand, a warehouseman cannot foreclose a storage lien during the time the serviceman is in service, and three months thereafter, except on court order.

If the serviceman cannot pay, the court may:

1. Stay the proceedings, or,

2. Make any other reasonable disposition of the case.

Section 53S provides one year imprisonment and $1,000 fine for violation of these laws.

Where a man could not pay overdue charges before entering the military service (52 N.Y.S. 862 — 44 N.Y.S. (2d) 4) the courts held that he is protected, but as above mentioned, his protection is limited.

For the complete law on Storage of Goods—See Section 302 or 532—Appendix United States Code. One provides that if a serviceman signs a contract after he is in service, he is accordingly obligated unless a court has previously made an order disposing of the controversy.

If a warehouseman has expectation of foreclosing a lien he must prove that military service does not affect the man's ability to pay (See 46 N.Y.S. 420). The court may order a serviceman to pay by installment, if he cannot pay cash as agreed in original contract. (45 N.Y.S. 576.)

What are the laws governing use tax or gross receipts tax on interstate business?

Recently a reader asked, "Can a state in any way tax interstate business? How about taxing a corporation which delivers merchandise into the state?" A few months ago a higher court answered these questions.

In T— v. R— Furniture Co., 268 S. W. (2d) 376, testimony showed facts as follows:

The R—— Furniture Co. is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Tennessee. It does not own nor maintain a place of business in the state of Arkansas. Neither does it have agents or salesmen who solicit business in Arkansas.

This corporation transacts interstate business with purchasers in the state of Arkansas in the following manner:

1. Purchasers in Arkansas and other states come to the corporation's plant in Memphis, and purchase and pay for various kinds of merchandise;

2. Purchasers in Arkansas and other states use the Federal postal service or interstate telephone service and offer to purchase merchandise from the corporation in Tennessee.

The taxing authorities in Arkansas contended that the corporation is liable to the state for a Gross Receipts Tax when sales of merchandise were made by the corporation to various residents of Arkansas.

The Supreme Court held that the corporation need not pay taxes to the state of Arkansas, and said:

"The place of business is in Tennessee. The firm does not have any agents or salesmen traveling in Arkansas. In each instance the sale to the Arkansas resident was completed in Tennessee, and the only time R—Co., or any of its employes, ever entered the state of Arkansas, was when the truck brought the articles into Arkansas for delivery."

For other court cases involving similar tax law see: Miller Bros. Co. v. State of Maryland, 347 U.S. 340, 74 S. Ct. 535; McLeod v. Dilworth Co. 322 U.S. 327; General Trading Co. v. State Tax Commission, 322 U.S. 335; Norton Co. v. Dept. of Revenue of State of Ill. 340 U.S. 534.

Notwithstanding this decision, the Supreme Court has held that a corporation or other seller is liable for payment of the "use tax" on all merchandise shipped into a foreign state. In this case the testimony showed that the corporation employs sales representatives who travel in the state and solicit orders from purchasers. The merchandise is delivered by the corporation to common carriers who deliver the merchandise to the purchasers.

With the exception of employment of traveling salesmen who solicit orders and sales contracts from purchasers, the corporation transacts strictly interstate business in the state.

The higher court decided that this corporation is liable for payment of use tax on all merchandise shipped into the state because its traveling salesmen solicited and took orders from purchasers. This court said:

"The regular use of traveling salesmen in the taxing state makes the seller liable for the collections of the use tax. There is a wide gulf between this type of active and aggressive operation within a taxing state and the delivery of goods sold at an out-of-state store with no solicitation other than the incidental effects of general advertising."

If a warehouseman holds a valid lien on stored goods, can he sell them to secure unpaid charges?

According to a late higher court decision if a warehouseman holds a valid lien on stored goods he may

Tape Cuts Cost

Palletizing 18 cartons, each containing 80 lb of paper, and strapping the loads with pressure-sensitive tape has resulted in savings for a New York paper manufacturer. Palletized cartons are shipped by truck 175 miles. Three-hundred and twenty-four cartons, tiered two-high on each pallet, constitute a truckload. Previously a fork truck brought a pallet-load to the street truck where the driver and two plant men, working two hours, loaded by hand. The fork-truck operator alone can now deliver and stow the complete truckload in half an hour sell them to secure unpaid charges, irrespective of who has legal title to

For illustration, in F- Co. v. J. F- Warehouse Co., 39 Atl (2d) 235, it was shown that a person named D- purchased certain furniture. He paid the seller a down payment and signed a usual conditional contract of sale in which he agreed to pay the seller stipulated monthly payments. In this contract the seller retained legal ownership and title to the furniture. However, the seller failed to record this contract, according to the laws of the state. Soon afterward D- stored the furniture in a warehouse. About four months after the goods were deposited by D- with the warehouseman, the seller informed the warehouseman that D- was a conditional purchaser in default and demanded possession of the furniture. The warehouseman refused to deliver up the furniture, unless the warehouse charges were paid.

Negotiations for a settlement between the warehouseman and the seller continued for several months until the warehouseman finally sold the furniture at public auction for the overdue storage charges. The seller sued the warehouseman to recover the value of the furniture. The sole issue for determination of the court was whether the title of the seller, who failed to record his conditional sale contract, was paramount to the lien of the warehouse man.

The higher court held the warehouseman not liable, saying:

"Can a warehouseman who admittedly has a lien on goods stored with him by virtue of the Warehouse Receipts Act be considered a pledge within the meaning of the Conditional Sales Act? It is the opinion of this court that he can."

Another important legal question presented the Court in this case was whether the warehouseman's lien was altered because he continued to keep the goods in storage after he was informed that D—— was not legal owner of the goods. In this respect the court said:

"The fact that the warehouseman continued to store the goods after learning of the existence of the contract in no way alters defendant's position."

Therefore, according to this higher court decision a warehouseman who in good faith accepts encumbered goods for storage does not lose or forfeit his lien by keeping the goods in storage. Hence, if the holder of an unrecorded mortgage, or conditional contract of sale, learns that a warehouseman has accepted the goods for storage it is his duty to pay the warehouseman the accrued storage charges before demanding possession of the goods.

It Looks Good . . . Rut What's Inside?

Exterior construction is only one consideration in selecting a public warehouse. Here is an inside view into U. S. and Canadian facilities and services

Selection of a warehouse, especially if it is to be a key distribution point, requires the same careful consideration as the selection of industrial sites, branch offices, and sales representatives.

Many factors influence choice. First there is the area in which the warehouse is located. Then differences such as transportation facilities, switching, sidings, dock areas, pool car service, handling equipment, temperature and humidity control, showrooms, and local cartage influence the choice. Some warehouses have many of these facilities, others have all.

To aid readers with selection, DISTRIBUTION AGE editors have, in the following pages, attempted to list the important specific services of public warehouses in the United States and Canada. Every listing has been checked and brought up to date as of press time.

Naturally, this compilation would be impossible without the cooperation of the warehousemen. It would be encouraging and rewarding to them if, when writing, mention be made that their listings were seen in DISTRIBUTION AGE.

Space limitations have made it necessary to keep the data brief but, if further information is needed, many additional facts can be obtained quickly from editorial files. Just contact the Editor, at Chestnut & 56th Sts., Philadelphia 39, Pa.

follow-through is important in merchandising, too!

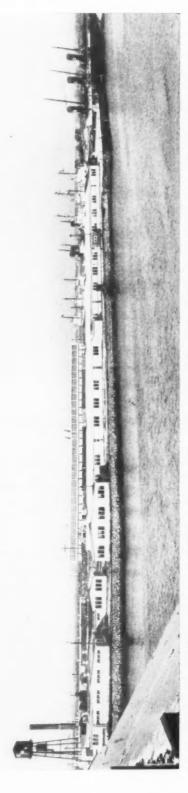

In merchandising as in golf, the follow-through (your rapid delivery of stocks) is highly important. And just as golfers develop their game, businessmen, too, can overcome their warehousing/distributing problems. Crooks' Branch House Plan offers a highly efficient, economical solution to "customized" branch house operations. It functions as an integral part of your organization . . . flexible enough to meet all situations . . . economical enough to pay its own way. Discover today, how this Plan can fit your specific needs.

GENERAL'S ultra-modern warehousing systems can simplify your distribution!

ACCOUNT EXECUTIVES FOR PERSONALIZED SERVICE
CENTRAL CONTROL FOR EFFICIENT STORAGE AND DISTRIBUTION
PLUS . . . THE FIRST COMPLETE REMINGTON RAND
ELECTRONIC TABULATING AND INVENTORY CONTROL SYSTEM

We don't believe in traditional warehousing practice. We believe a warehouse should keep itself up to date with new and efficient business methods. Using modern communication systems, General operates 7 warehouses from a central control . . . our account executive system provides you with a person who is already familiar with your industry's needs and practices. The result . . . General's smooth efficient service gives you the same rigid control of storage and material handling you use in your own plant. Here's how the General system works. When your order is received it is checked and recorded by trained office personnel—our account executive arranges in advance for space and the facilities necessary to your particular kind of goods—the merchandise itself is received and stored by people skilled in handling freight. General's system makes a specialist out of every worker.

NOW! YOU CAN HAVE 3-POINT DISTRIBUTION IN ILLINOIS

In addition to Chicago locations, General now has modern warehouses with complete local and national distribution facilities in Rockford and Peoria, Illinois, which serves a market of over 7,500,000 consumers.

7 STRATEGICALLY LOCATED CHICAGO WAREHOUSES

ACCOUNT

Your account will be assigned to an executive familiar with your industry's warehousing needs. You always deal with a man who has authority and knowledge to adapt or devise special handling methods.

COMPLETE DAMAGE PROTECTION

All goods are inspected on arrival and damaged merchandise reported at once or repacked per your specifications. Quick action in such cases means that all your stock is in salable condition. Each warehouse has burglar alarm and sprinkler system.

PUNCH CARD TABULATING SYSTEM PROCESSES ORDERS IN SECONDS...WITH NO ERRORS

This complete Remington Rand electronic tabulating system, the finest of its kind, is another of General's many modern features. Within seconds it automatically makes Bill of Lading cards "perforated" with information necessary to fill your order. The Lading Cards activate teletype equipment that sends shipping information to warehouse shipping department. Time to process orders has been cut to ½ the time usually needed for order processing. Full knowledge of the exact location and quantity of goods in transit is vital to both warehouse and client. Here General's efficient communication system can be invaluable. Prompt accurate data on request or as regularly as you like.

MODERN HANDLING

New equipment of the most modern type insures fast, safe handling of your material. General has 42 fork trucks of 2000 to 5000 pound lifting capacity. The most modern methods are employed; we use over 30,000 pallets.

RAIL AND TRUCK DOCKS

Each General Warehouse building has rail sidings and both rail and truck docks. All docks have overhead weather protection and several are completely enclosed. With these complete facilities General handled over 10,000 carloads last year.

COMPLETE DISTRIBUTION AND TRANSPORT SERVICE

We can pick up or deliver any size load within the Chicago switching district and commercial zone of Indiana. General owns over 50 pieces of trucking equipment. This extra service will greatly aid your Chicago distribution.

ESTABLISHED 1931

TO SERVE THE PORT

OF NEW ORLEANS

At the gateway of the midcontinent, with easy access by steamship, barge, rail and truck, stand 10 modern Gulf Shipside warehouses... more than 200,000 square feet of covered and 300,000 square feet of open yard storage... public, state and U. S. customs bonded... served by a new 500 foot wharf, shipside tracks, a cotton compress, and the latest in pallets and materials handling equipment... Foreign Trade Zone Space...

Gulf's experience, know-how and historic integrity are behind this steadily growing business, founded on the satisfaction of clients today and over a period of 26 years.

These advantages, combined with important savings in handling costs, shipside freight rates and carrier tariff absorptions have made storers feel that in New Orleans, the best is Gulf Shipside.

TRENTON...

Strategic center of booming DELAWARE VALLEY U.S.A. Here is 230,000 sq. ft. of space especially suited for industrial storage. Modern one-story brick and concrete buildings provide the advantages of single-level storage. Sturdy concrete floors take unlimited loads—there is 33 ft. of clear piling height.

A.D.T. burglar and sprinkler protection is provided. Handling, by experienced men, is completely mechanized and palletized. There are three railroad sidings with 25-car capacity—20 tailgate truck-loading docks. Insurance rates are low.

"Delaware Valley" is most conveniently situated, for it is on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad between Philadelphia and New York. It is also handy to the Pennsylvania and New Jersey Turnpikes and other major highways—readily accessible, no need to drive through heavily congested areas. For further information, write today to W. B. McKinney, Jr., Manager, telling your requirements.

This strategically situated property—most recent addition to the Chain of Tidewater Terminals and Inland Warehouses—is on the New York Central's main line between Buffalo and Cleveland. It is a subsidiary of The Keystone Warehouse Company of Buffalo.

It offers storage-in-transit privileges on a large variety of commodities. Costly switching charges at destination points are eliminated. The modern, high ceilinged brick and steel structure is sprinklered. You get fast, expert handling of your products with mechanized equipment.

The property is served by a New York Central siding, under cover, with 20-car capacity. There is reciprocal switching with the Pennsylvania, Nickel Plate, and Erie Railroads. It may well be that we can serve your distributional needs at this intermediate point between East and West. Write or call us for complete information.

Situated on the sixth and other floors. Capacity more than 250,000 square feet. 85,000 square feet U. S. Bonded Warehouse.

VENTILATING, HEATING, ETC.

Warehouse is light, airy and well ventilated. Heated in the winter by modern thermoleer units which are thermostatically controlled, allowing us to maintain any desired temperature with these instruments.

WAREHOUSE ACCESSIBLE

By freight or truck elevators. Elevator capacity more than 30,000 lbs. Merchandise can be loaded or unloaded on street platforms or in truck pits right outside of our warehouse doors inside the building. This eliminates the hazards of street loading.

CALL AND DELIVERY SERVICE

By all R. R., coastwise S. S. carloading Co.'s and long distance Truck Operators.

DEEP SEA AND COASTWISE PIERS

We believe we are ideally located for both. This should result in a low cost of cartage to or from this particular point.

INSPECTION INVITED

We respectfully invite you to inspect the premises at any time, at your convenience so that you may see for yourself the modern warehouse we are operating.

We call attention to our affiliate ultra-modern warehouse at 29-39 Pavonia Ave., Jersey City, N. J. Situated on the Erie R.R. and Hudson River. Send for further details of this warehouse—The Mid-Hudson.

HANSEN'S

Tales are Practical Wisdom

And though the wolf huffed 'n puffed ...

...he couldn't blow the third little pig's house down because it was SOLIDLY constructed.

Similarly... when you enter a new market, you want to be sure of a SOLID FOUNDATION OF SALES before investing heavily in buildings.

That's why "spot-stocking" your supplies or products at Hansen Storage provides you with a means of "keeping the wolf away" while you test the sales potential of the Wisconsin market, with no capital investment.

Hansen's two warehouse locations in Milwaukee are within 2 trucking hours of Wisconsin's richest industrial concentration — where 75% of state income and 71% of all sales originate.

Because you pay only for the space and labor you use, when you use it — your venture isn't tied down. You can stay to reap the full profits, or leave as inexpensively as you came.

Over 50 years experience in warehousing have given Hansen the know-how to serve you BEST. Write for further details.

- 2. Prompt and dependable deliveries to your customers daily via Contract or Common Carrier.
- 3. Central downtown location (away from congested areas) combined with ample truck doors and efficient equipment eliminating "waiting bottlenecks" and lost time.
